Radio Berlin Towers Blown Up

Termed Airlift Menace

No Comment From Reds

BERLIN — (AP) — The French today blew up the towers of Soviet-controlled Radio Berlin, knocking the station off the air.

The Russians, however, have another tower outlet, Germany's old Deutschland sender, 20 miles east of the city.

Brig. Gen. Jean Ganeval, French military commander in Berlin, said the two towers were demolished by French forces this morning. The radio was not on the air at the time.

Ganeval said he was compelled to destroy the towers because they were "a very great danger" to allied airlift planes coming in by radar to the new Tegel field in the French sector. The towers were near the field.

The French commander said he had notified the Berlin radio station management on Nov. 20 the demolition would take place today in order to allow the management time to arrange new installations in another sector. He said the demolition took place without incident.

BLOW UP CONTROLS

German postal authorities said the French not only blew up the radio towers, but also the control installations for the towers.

Demolishing the towers climaxed a long four-power dispute over Radio Berlin.

The radio station itself is located in the British sector. The Russians have successfully resisted British efforts to force them from the station, which they took over when Berlin fell.

When the western powers came to Berlin the Russians insisted they retain control of the radio station, saying it was their only broadcast outlet to the Soviet zone.

The Russians posted armed guards at entrances to the building and no one was allowed in without a special pass

As the east-west position worsened in Berlin the British were urged by the other western powers to take over the station which broadcast long tirades against the western allies.

The British did not take action because of the danger of an incident involving British and Soviet troops.

It also was felt the Russians might retaliate by cutting off all cable communication between Berlin and the Soviet zone.

North China Loss Looms

NANKING — (INS) — North China's early collapse appeared imminent today as communist forces completely isolated Peiping and moved within 65 miles of Tientsin.

Left-wing spokesmen in Hong Kong were quoted in a Reuters dispatch as announcing the fall of Peiping. The London Daily Telegraph reported from Shanghai, however, that government officials in Nanking denied the report.

Communist threats to Nanking and Shanghai in east central China also mounted amid multiplying rumors of secret peace maneuvers involving possible replacement of President Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalist regime.

A group of Chinese parliamentarians in Nanking moved to have the national assembly summoned into special session Jan. 1. They contended that parliament should weigh the emergency.

Welfare Post Goes To Pryor

Barnes President Succeeds Finefrock

Millard H. Pryor, president of the Barnes Manufacturing company, was appointed to the Richland County Child Welfare board today succeeding John H. Finefrock who has resigned after 20 years service.

Pryor was named by Juvenile Judge Stuart H. Cramer, who under statute, may sit on the board or appoint someone to serve in his place.

The appointment is effective Jan. 1. Finefrock, in tendering his resignation, told Judge Cramer his reason for giving up the post was ill health.

Finefrock was chairman of the board which at its January meeting will have to elect a new chairman. Altogether, there are five members on the board, the other four being appointed by the county commissioners.

SERVE 5 YEARS

Since the appointments are for five years, one member is appointed each year.

Pryor is a member of the study committee of the Richland County Child Welfare council which recently made a series of recommendations to the county commissioners for improving the county's child welfare program in accordance with recommendations of state welfare workers.

Pryor has lived in Mansfield since 1939, coming here from Detroit. He also is president of the Pryor Manufacturing company.

As a Navy commander from March 1943 to March 1946, Pryor served in Washington, D. C., the Bremerton, Wash., Navy yard, and did a three-month tour of duty in Japan.

He is a graduate of the University of Michigan, with a master's degree. He is a member of the Rotary, the University club, Westbrook Country club and the Central Methodist church, and a trustee of Albion college in Michigan.

Longer Hours Scheduled At Post Office

In an effort to speed up Christmas mailing, most windows at the post office will remain open until 7 p. m. tomorrow, Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, and until 5:30 p. m. Saturday.

Tomorrow, Monday and Tuesday, and Wednesday general delivery, parcel post, stamp, registery, and COD windows will remain open until 7 p. m. Ordinarily general delivery, parcel post, and stamp windows close at 5:30 p. m., and the registry window at 6 p. m. Money order and postal savings windows will close at 5 p. m. as usual.

Saturday the post office will observe regular week-day hours instead of closing at noon. General delivery, parcel post, and stamp windows, will remain open until 5:30 p. m., moneyorder and postal savings until 5 p. m., and registery until 6 p. m.

Parcel post, general delivery, and stamp windows open at 7 a. m., registery and COD at 8 a. m., and money order and postal savings at 8:30 a. m.

Ford said Christmas mailing is still lagging behind that of last year and he expects a last-minute rush to develop.

SEES PRICE CONTROLS

NEW YORK — (U.P.) — Vice-President Elect Elben W. Barkley predicted last night that the next Congress will enact police controls.

Weather Hits Yule Shopping

Merchants Want Cold and Snow

The weather was far from Christmas-like today, and Mansfielders hope there'll be a change soon.

Merchants and shoppers alike complained of the rain, fog and above-freezing temperatures.

"What we need is some good cold weather and a snowstorm," one merchant said. "That would put shoppers in a Christmas mood."

A hodge-podge of weather was served up today across the nation. California had unseasonably low mercury readings while it was spring-like in the middlewest. Below zero readings were recorded in the northwest.

Southern Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky were hit by floods.

The mercury apparently was headed back toward normal in Mansfield today after reaching a high of 60 at 3:30 a. m. The CAA office at the airport reported a reading of 40 at noon. A further drop was forecast for tonight. Snow flurries are expected tomorrow.

During the last 24 hours .81 inches of rain fell here. Cincinnati reported more than three inches.

STREAMS OVERFLOW

Swollen streams were overflowing at a number of places in Ohio. The Hocking and Scioto rivers were pouring over their banks, closing a number of highways and inundating farms. The Ohio river was at the 40-foot level, 12 feet under flood stage, at Cincinnati.

Further fears of flood damage were dispelled, however, as a cold air mass moved into the state from the west, causing temperatures to plummet toward the freezing mark.

State Highway Director Earl L. Reeb reported that high waters closed highways in Guernsey, Wyandotte, Pike, Jackson, Lawrence, Athens, Gallia, Hocking and Meigs counties, and that numerous secondary roads were closed in the southeastern portion of the state.

The Hocking river went over its banks at Nelsonville and if rain continues Chauncey, in Athens county, was threatened with isolation

The spring-like temperatures brought spring-like results. A farmer near Bellefontaine picked 10 dandelions in full bloom.

New Defense Plan Asked

WASHINGTON —(AP)— This country's national defense system is "enormously" costly and its machinery needs overhauling a Hoover Commission "task force" reported today.

The committee recommended this six-point program to hold dollar outlays within bounds and improve the operations of the security setup:

1. Give the secretary of defense more direct control over the three armed forces because his present "difficulties lie in vague authority."

2. Take steps to assure a "fuller measure of teamwork" among the offices and services which compose the national military establishment and the top-level national security organization.

3. Overhaul the military budget system because the "military services are far too prodigal with government funds."

4. Relate scientific research more closely to strategic planning.

5. Speed up plans for civilian mobilization in case of war.

6. Make adequate provision for use of and protection against "unconventional means of warfare."

Baby Ruled Dead, Comes Back to Life

CAIRO, ILL., — (UP) — The delayed action of a heart stimulant administered at birth caused a newborn baby to come to life after being pronounced dead and sent to an undertaking parlor, the attending physician said today. The infant died seven hours later in a hospital incubator.

Brighten A Christmas

Many City Children Face Bleak Holiday

A young Mansfield couple with four children are looking forward to a bleak Christmas this year, both for their children and themselves.

The father has been ill for some time, and is able only to do odd jobs when his condition permits. Until recently his wife has been employed in Shelby, hitchhiking daily back and forth to work. However, she, too, has been ill and forced to quit work.

The children are aged seven, six, three and a half and fifteen months. This couple is buying a small home and what little money the father earns has been used to buy food and make the small payments on the house.

Through the generosity of a Mansfield woman and a rural church group, sufficient food is assured for their holiday dinner, but a small Christmas tree and gifts for the children, as well as clothing, would make their Christmas merrier.

Another father, earning approximately thirty dollars each week, will be unable to purchase any gifts for his seven children this year. Newcomers to Mansfield, they will receive a quantity of staple groceries from the men and women with whom he works. A duck and chicken have been provided for their Christmas dinner, through the courtesy of a kind-hearted woman, but toys and gifts for the children will be lacking.

The four young children of one woman, who supports her family by doing housework, will be disappointed the morning of Dec. 25 by Santa Claus' failure to visit them. The mother is expecting another child within the next few weeks, so the prospects of having a gay Christmas are very dim.

Two teen-aged youngsters, whose parents deserted them several years ago, live in a foster home. They have the necessary items of clothing and food, but a few gifts from some kind friend would make their Christmas happier.

You may help "Brighten-the-Christmas" of any of these people by calling Mrs. Margaret Mattox at The News-Journal office, 4251-6, daily, except Sunday, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m.

Costa Rican War Speeded

SAN JOSE, C. R. —(UP)—The Costa Rican government announced today that one of its naval units had captured the Nicaraguan vessel Mar Cantabrico which allegedly was used to carry an invasion force from Nicaragua into Costa Rica.

The ship, which was reported strafed by a Costa Rican fighter plane yesterday, was captured at the tiny port of Puerto Soley on the northwestern coast, the government announced.

Members of the government flew yesterday to Liberaia, highway town 100 miles northwest of San Jose, to inspect defenses and hold a meeting to refute claims that Liberia had fallen to the invaders

At the meeting the officials approved a declaration naming former President Rafael Angel Calderon Guardia, who reportedly planned the invasion against Costa Rica, as a traitor to his country.

Loses Court Fight

COLUMBUS, — (INS) — The Acme Engineering company, of Wooster, today lost its supreme court plea to compel the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation to return to it some $8,340 in alleged overpayment on jobless pay premiums.

Admission Will Be Can of Food

Movie to Aid City's Needy

Mansfielders were offered a chance today to share their Christmas with others and get an entertainment bonus.

The Park theater and the Salvation Army announced a "canned goods" movie party next Tuesday at the theater. Only admission charged will be a can of food.

All canned goods received at this special show will be turned over to the Salvation Army to aid them in carrying out their Christmas basket program for needy Mansfield families.

The two-hour show, scheduled to start at 9:30 a. m. will include a western feature, a two-reel comedy, a two-reel musical, and four cartoons.

The show is not limited to children. Adults also may attend

The films which will be shown were donated by Republic Pictures corporation, RKO Radio Pictures, Inc., and Columbia Pictures corporation.

Use of the Park theater was made available by A. G. Constant, president of Constant Theatrical Enterprises, of Steubenville.

Schools Set For Holiday

Pupils Present Yuletide Programs

Although the halls will not be decked with holly and with few exceptions there will be no Christmas trees, the Yuletide spirit of song and laughter invaded Mansfield's public schools today.

With a long holiday coming up tomorrow, pupils had a hard time keeping their minds on their work. City schools will be closed until Jan. 3.

A few schools had programs today, but most of them will be held tomorrow.

The packing of Christmas baskets will take up the entire day tomorrow at Senior high school. The baskets will be placed in the halls and by late afternoon will be ready for distribution tomorrow.

Today Senior high pupils were given a "preview" of the choir program to be presented tonight at the auditorium under the direction of A. LeMoine Derr. An assembly of Christmas music was given at 10 a. m.

Tickets for tonight's Christmas musicale may be obtained from Senior high students. The program will open at 8 p. m. today.

School at John Simpson will continue "as usual" tomorrow, but it will be started with an assembly at 8.30 a. m. in which the ninth grade choir and the seventh and eighth grade glee clubs will present a program of Christmas music

GLEE CLUBS SING

At Johnny Appleseed, a musical program featuring carols and Christmas hymns will be held in the auditorium at 1:45 under the

Palace Staff Dances With Royal Rulers

LONDON — (INS) — Britain began its Christmas festivities today after its first peek at the infant "Bonnie Prince Charlie" and a Buckingham Palace ball.

Queen Elizabeth and Princess Margaret Rose danced gaily with palace employes at the annual Christmas ball for servants of the royal family and members of the household staff.

The gala event was held in the state ballroom last night following the afternoon christening of Prince Charles of Edinburgh, baby son of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh.

MARINES AT SHANGHAI

SHANGHAI — (U.P.) — A detachment of 695 Marines from Tsingtao arrived at Shanghai today aboard the transport Bayfield to protect American lives and property in case of disorders during a possible communist attack.

Accused Agent Goes on Trial January 24

NEW YORK—Alger Hiss entered a formal plea of not guilty today to federal charges that he perjured himself before the special New York grand jury investigating pre-war communist espionage in Washington.

Trial was set for Jan. 24, and the former state department aide was ordered to post $5,000 bail guaranteeing his appearance in court on the trial date.

His face grim and set in sharp contrast to the smiling appearance he has maintained before news men throughout the spy investigation, he was arraigned in a brief session before Federal Judge John W. Clancy.

Speaking firmly and clearly, he told the court:

"I plead not guilty."

The grand jury, in its indictment returned last night, accused Hiss of lying when he denied he ever had turned any government documents over to Whittaker Chambers, confessed former communist agent, and of lying when he said he never saw Chambers after December, 1936.

Only moments before the Hiss arraignment, a new special grand jury of 23 members was selected and sworn in. The action took only seven minutes.

This new panel will continue the work of the grand jury which wound up an 18-month term last night by indicting Hiss.

When government counsel at the arraignment suggested Jan. 24 as the Hiss trial date, the defendant's lawyer, Edward McLean, said that date would be a little early.

The government, however, said a postponement could be asked at that time, and that it wanted to set the date. McLean agreed.

The government explained that if McLean had any other motions to make, he would have the opportunity before trial. Hence the date was settled.

In court, no objection was made by Hiss' counsel to his fingerprinting.

McLean's attitude was that he and Hiss were perfectly willing to go along with the government's procedure.

Hiss, who has denied all of Chambers' charges, formerly was one of the state department's bright young men who had access to high government circles. He was secretary general of the charter conference of the United Nations at San Francisco and also was secretary to the 1944 Dumbarton Oaks pre-UN conference in Washington.

When he went to Yalta with President Roosevelt he was a deputy director of the office of special political affairs. His first job in the government service was as secretary to Associate Justice of the U. S. Oliver Wendell Homes.

He resigned from the state department early in 1947 to become president of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, which last week granted him a three-month leave of absence.

House Launches New Probe Into Espionage

WASHINGTON—(INS)—Congressional spy hunters, elated over indictment of Alger Hiss, launched a new drive today to determine whether communist agents still are operating in the United States government.

Rep. Mundt (R-SD), acting chairman of the House Un-American Activities committee, scheduled a closed-door meeting to map the future course of the espionage investigation.

Mundt emphasized that the committee expects not only to find out whether government secrets still are leaking to Russia but to recommend legislation necessary to prevent such leaks in the future.

The new probe got under way after Rep. Mundt declared that the committee is of the opinion that communist agents still are working in the department.

Rep. Nixon (R-Cal) said that the committee has "some leads" on what happened to the Whittaker Chambers' communist underground after he broke with the Communist party in 1938.

CLOSED MEETING

The committee planned to meet again behind closed doors today to question another unidentified witness who was described as "probably not too important."

The committee chief declared also that his group expects to take new testimony from Whittaker Chambers, confessed ex-communist courier who swore Hiss gave him state department secrets for transmission to Soviet agents.

It was Chambers' testimony before a New York federal grand jury that led to Hiss' indictment on two counts of perjury.

Mundt said he would recommend that the Alger Hiss phase of the committee's investigation be halted, in view of the grand jury action, but that the House unit wants to question the indicted official's brother, Donald Hiss.

Claim 'Secret' Papers Formed Soviet Policy

WASHINGTON—(INS)—Spy documents published by the House Un-American Activities committee today indicated that they may have been a major factor in formulating Soviet policy in the crucial year of 1938.

That was the year of Munich. It also was the year that Hitler moved into Austria. It was then that the world teetered on the brink of war

Also, it was in 1938 that Russia, if she wanted to, could have given the Western nations pledges which might have encouraged them to stop Hitler before he moved into the Sudetenland of Czechoslovakia.

Two of the diplomatic dispatches released by the committee today could have been vital in that situation. In Russian hands they may have caused the Kremlin to believe that the United States would never be a force in the international picture.

These are the key documents as far as Europe of that year is concerned:

1. On Jan. 12, William C. Bullitt, ambassador to Paris, reported that the new Italian charge d'affaires in Paris had informed him that Hitler and Mussolini had a deal on for Austria. As part of the deal it was understood that the 300,000 Tyroleans incorporated into Italy after World War I could be removed to Germany and Austria as farm laborers. Hitler took Austria over on March 13.

2. On March 30, the U.S. charge d'affaires in Paris, Edwin C. Wilson, reported that a former German diplomat had told him that Nazi party leaders were urging Hitler to move quickly into Czechoslovakia.

Wilson said the purpose was to "take advantage of French weakness and British unpreparedness."

The dispatch showed that Hitler's top advisers opposed hasty action until Hitler had conferred with Mussolini.

In restrospect, these documents might appear unimportant. But, even if they told Moscow little that it did not know before, subsequent reaction in Washington must have made clear to them the inability of the United States to engage in direct action.

Try Stuffed Vegetables For Holidays

When a pepper, a potato, a squash, an onion, or an eggplant is stuffed, it's not just a vegetable, it's a money-saving dish! Try these vegetables stuffed for good eating, suggested by the Better Homes & Gardens Testing-Test Kitchen

Onions—Big, sweet precooked onions are stuffed with baked beans and crisp bacon. Bake and serve with hot brown bread

Potatoes—Bake potatoes, then scoop out the centers, whip with hot milk and seasonings, as you would mashed potatoes. Fold in diced ham and grated cheese Pile lightly into shells. Brown in hot oven.

Avocados—Peel avocados, cut in half lengthwise. Season with salt and lemon juice. Fill with flaked crab meat and drizzle with mayonnaise blended with chili juice Serve with crisp, salty crackers for appetizer or salad. Garnish with carrot curls.

Acorn Squash — Cut squash crosswise and you'll get a pretty scalloped edging effect Bake squash cutside down in moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes. Brown sausage balls; turn squash and stuff Bake another 30 or 40 minutes.

Mushrooms — Stuffed mushrooms are perfect plate mates for broiled lamb chops or steaks Chop mushroom stems and combine with onion, bacon bits, soft bread crumbs, some chili sauce and lemon juice. Bake in cream

Peppers—You can eat the "baking dish" because it's a green pepper filled and baked with well-seasoned ground beef, chopped tomato and fresh corn.

Tomatoes—A tomato, stuffed, becomes a main-dish salad. Cut each tomato in sections, not completely through, fill with tuna salad, and top with a pecan. Serve on leaf lettuce and garnish with deviled eggs

Cabbage—Combine ground beef and pork mixed with chili sauce, onion, rice, and seasonings. Spoon mixture onto large cooked cabbage leaves; roll and fasten with toothpick. Cook bundles in a Dutch oven

Anti-Trust Suit Filed

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The justice department said today it has filed a suit to break up an alleged world cartel in natural rubber products.

Attorney General Clark announced the civil action was brought in the federal district court at Cleveland.

He said it charges the existence of "unlawful agreements which prevent the import into and the export from the United States of products manufactured from natural rubber, or latex."

He said the complaint names as defendants the United States Rubber company of New York, Consolidated Rubber Manufacturers, Ltd., of New York and London, and Dunlop Rubber company, Ltd., of London.

Fire Pay Hike Before Council

A special meeting of city council has been called tonight to consider appropriations for firemen's pay, Mayor Roy W. Vaughn announced.

The present appropriation for the firemen's payroll is $900 short, City Auditor Paul Kelley said. The shortage of funds is due to the increase in pay voted police and firemen in November, and the fact no additional funds were appropriated when the city added two new fire captains and three additional firemen earlier this year, Kelley said.

It is expected council will appropriate funds to pay the firemen for the last half of December.

Teams entered include Rice Bowl, Zeigler's Hill, Lyons Hi-Speed, Galion Iron Works (Bucyrus division), American Legion and Ohio Crane company.

Two Teams Keep Perfect Records

(By Associated Press)

Akron university and Wilberforce State college stayed in the ranks of undefeated basketball teams last night by posting easy victories.

Akron's Zippers made Wayne university their third victim, 71-35, at Akron, while Wilberforce notched its fourth win by trouncing Tiffin at Wilberforce, 72-53.

Bobby Walker scored 19 points and Hank Vaughn hit for 19 to pace Akron, which led 34-20 at half time. It was Wayne's second loss in seven games.

Ike Williams Awarded Coveted Ring Trophy

NEW YORK —(AP)— Ike Williams, world lightweight champion, has been awarded the Edward J. Neil trophy as the boxing figure who has done the most for the sport during the past year.

She was a member of First Methodist church and its pastor, Rev. Norman Somerville, will officiate at services Saturday at 3 p. m. in the Snyder funeral home here. Burial will be in Fairview cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 p. m. today.

MRS. JOSEPHINE H. GREBE

GALION — Mrs. Josephine H. Grebe, 80, a Galion resident until several months ago, died at midnight Wednesday in her home seven miles west of here after an extended illness. She was born on May 19, 1868, in Delaware. Her husband, William H., died in 1940.

She leaves three sons, Earl C. of Toledo, Harold H. of Warren and George E. of Los Angeles. Services will be at 10 a. m. Saturday in the Snyder funeral home here with Rev. Alva Taylor, pastor of the Market Street Methodist church, officiating. Burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery in Delaware.

Hit By Auto, Child Unhurt

Nancy Doty, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Doty, 234½ North Diamond street, escaped serious injury when she ran into the side of a car driven by Richard W. Redenour, 218 West Third street at noon yesterday.

The accident, which occured at the intersection of East Fifth and North Diamond streets, was reported to police by Redenour who said he was making a left turn from Diamond street to East Fifth street when the little girl ran into his car.

Although knocked to the pavement, she got up and was uninjured.

FRATERNITIES BANNED

CLEVELAND — (AP) — The board or education of suburban Cleveland Heights has ordered dissolution by Jan. 31 of all fraternities, sororities "and other similar societies."

Kitty Hawk On Display

was no question about who made the first human flight. The issue was whether the Wrights had discovered the secret of how to do it.

UPHELD IN COURTS

When Glenn H. Curtiss of Hammondsport, N. Y., organized the Herring-Curtiss company in 1909 to engage in aircraft manufacture and flight exhibitions, Federal Judge John R. Hazel granted a restraining order, recognizing the brothers as pioneers in the flying art. The United States court of appeals upheld the Wrights in 1914.

A few months later Curtiss asked permission of the Smithsonian pnstitution to make mew flight tests with the Langley aerodrome.

This machine, designed by Dr. Samuel P. Langley, Smithsonian secretary, with government aid had failed a short time before the Wrights first flew.

The Langley plane was greatly modified for the trials so that structurally and aerodynamically it was a different machine. In that condition it made a couple of five-second hops.

Thereafter, using a report written by Dr. Albert F. Zahm, an associate of Langley, the Smithsonian institution announced that the original Langley machine without modification was the first craft capable of powered flight with a man.

That could be tremendously important to the Wrights. Wilbur had died in 1912. Orville resented not only the claim that the secret of flying had been discovered by others, but was concerned as well with the possibility of having numerous successful court actions overturned.

Orville's quarrel was with Dr. Charles D. Walcott, who became Smithsonian secretary in 1907 and held the position until his death in 1927.

The Kitty Hawk went to England in 1928. A few months later Dr. Charles G. Abbot, now retired, became Smithsonian secretary. He tried immediately to settle the quarrel and have the famous flyer returned. With all his eagerness, it required 15 years to reach agreement.

In fact, it did not become certain until after Orville's death last Jan. 30 that he had asked the British to send the plane home.

NOTICE OF SALE OF BONDS

General Code, Section 2293-28.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received by the Union Local School District at the Office of the County Superintendent of Schools, Second Floor of Court House Building, Mansfield, Richland County, Ohio, until noon December 21st, 1948, and will be publicly opened and read at one o'clock P. M. on the same day, at the Office of the County Superintendent of Schools, Second Floor of Court House Building, Mansfield, Richland County, Ohio, for the purchase of coupon bonds at not less than par and accrued interest in the aggregate amount of $80,000.00 dated the first day of January 1949. Such bonds shall bear interest at not to exceed three and one-half per cent (3½%) per annum, payable semi-annually on the first day of April and October of each year, beginning on the first day of April, 1950. Provided, however, that bids for said bonds may be made for a different rate of interest in multiples of ¼ of 1%. Said bonds are issued for the purpose of providing sufficient funds for the erection of a Fireproof Addition to present School Building, and under authority of the laws of Ohio, particularly the Uniform Bond Act, and in accordance with a certain Resolution authorizing said bonds, passed on the nineteenth day of November 1948. Said bonds were voted November second, 1948, and are payable from unlimited taxes

Said bonds shall be numbered from 1 to 80 inclusive, shall be in the denomination of $1,000.00 each, and shall be due and payable as follows: $4,000.00 on October 1st of each year, starting with October 1st, 1950 and continuing to October 1st, 1969, inclusive.

Both bonds and interest coupons will be payable at The Citizens National Bank of Mansfield, Ohio. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check payable to the Union Local School District for not less than 1% of the amount of the bonds herein offered, said check to be forfeited as liquidating damages in the event of default on the part of the bidder. All bids will be considered and an award will be made, provided however, that the right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

A transcript of proceedings evidencing the legality thereof and the printed bonds will be furnished promptly. Bond Attorney's opinion at option and expense of the successful bidder.

Bids should be sealed and endorsed "Bids for Union Local School District Bonds," care of H. S. Pittenger, R. F. D. No. 2, Mansfield, Ohio.

Cleveland Barons Back In Cellar

(By International News Service)

Bob Solinger, 22-year-old left wing for the Cleveland Barons, was the only jubilant player on the squad today.

Solinger, who scored 40 goals last winter and won the American Hockey league's "rookie of the year" honors, finally racked up his first goal of the season last night, but the Barons lost to the Pittsburgh Hornets, 6-2, and slid back into the western division basement.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

300 Roll Up Sleeves, Go to Work On 37th Annual C. of C. Banquet

Three hundred persons rolled up their sleeves this week and went to work on plans for the 37th annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

The big banquet, will be held Jan. 14 at the Coliseum with Eugene C. Pulliam, nationally known publisher of the Indianapolis Star-News scheduled to give the main address.

Ticket sales have started, and although the event is almost a month away, 100 tickets have been sold. At present sales are restricted to C. of C. members and their families and friends. Sales will be made to the general public at a future date.

"Dixie Capers", a half hour vaudeville show with a cast of 33 persons and a laugh sensation called "Mystery in Bubbles," are the major entertainment features scheduled for the banquet.

Plans for the entertainment were made last month and rehearsals began this week.

The committee chairmen and members as announced by general C. L. Van Derau follows:

General Chairman Van Derau, Carlton S. Fernyak, Harry B. Soulen, Paul B. Loeckel, Paul M. Eliot, J. A. Herbert, and Reese Mills.

Navy Signs 4 Enlistees

Four more area men have enlisted in the navy, the U.S. Navy recruiting office announced today.

Two of the men, Robert Eugene Robertson, 21, of 113 Lafayette street, and William R. Ferguson, 23, of Lexington, enlisted for three years.

Enlisting for one year were Ben Austin Bell, 18, of Nashville, O., and Robert L. Phillips, 18, of Fredericktown.

Navy recruiters pointed out today that men enlisting under the 18-year-old, one year enlistment program are given the same recruit training, duty assignments, opportunity for schools, advancement in rating, and leave as the three-year enlistees.

A one year enlistment exempts a man from the draft, provided he enlists in the reserves for five years, the recruiting office said.

The four area recruits have been sent to the naval training center in San Diego for basic training.

All Quiet After Salvador Revolt

SAN SALVADOR — (INS) — The tiny republic of El Salvador was quiet today under a Junta which deposed President Salvador Castaneda Castro.

Government sources said the five-man Junta moved yesterday after Castaneda obtained from the General Assembly authority extending his presidential term two years beyond 1949 when it should end.

Korean President Pleads for All-Out American Aid to China

Leadership Of America At Stake

Rhee Proclaims Need For Haste

SEOUL —(AP)— Korean President Syngman Rhee declared today that the United States should give all out aid to China immediately to help stem communism in Asia.

American leadership in Asia and the world at large is at stake in the China conflict, Rhee said in an exclusive interview. He emphasized the need for speed if China is to be saved.

Reform of the Nanking government is a problem that can be solved later, Rhee said.

"The important thing now is to prevent the people of China from passing behind the iron curtain and from being forced into the ranks of the totalitarian slave states," he said.

Rhee said that all Koreans are following developments in China with "sympathy and emotion." China granted refuge to many Korean patriots in the days when Korea was struggling for independence, he said, and China long has been bound to this country by the closest cultural and economic ties.

"I hope you will tell the American people that they will be making an awful mistake—a mistake for which the whole world will suffer—if they abandon the Chinese people now in China's hour of need," he said.

Koreans realize that their fate is to some extent bound to that of China, he said, but they are not so much concerned with that as they are with the prospect of seeing the 400,000,000 Chinese "forced into the straitjacket of slavish regimentation."

The Chinese crisis, President Rhee said, "deserves the attention of every truly democratic statesman in the world."

"It calls for leadership of the highest order, leadership capable of mobilizing world opinion in noncommunist nations against this continuing sweep of militaristic and ideological aggression," he said.

Seek Unit In County

An attempt to organize a Richland county Holstein Breeders association will be made at a meeting of Holstein breeders at a meeting Monday at 8:15 p. m. in the court of appeals room in the courthouse.

County Agent C. N. McGrew, in making the announcement, said George Nichols, field man for the Ohio Holstein Breeders association will be in charge.

McGrew said a number of Holstein breeders in Richland county have expressed interest in formation of an association. The county agent said purpose of an association is to exchange ideas, keep in contact with other breeders on improved methods and sponsor activities for 4-H dairy work.

One of the largest Holstein Breeders association in Ohio is in Medina county where he formerly was the county agent, McGrew said. There, 50 per cent of farm income comes from dairying. In Richland county, 40 per cent of farm income is from dairying, McGrew stated.

42 Learn About New Water Systems at Barnes Convention

Forty-two sales representatives from the U.S. and Canada are in Mansfield today attending final sessions of the annual sales convention of Barnes Manufacturing company.

According to Fred B. Hout, vice president in charge of sales, the men are undergoing intensive sales training on four new lines of domestic water systems. During the past year, the Barnes company has brought out a new pumping head for use with very deep wells, two new shallow-well pumping systems, and a new design cellar sump pump.

Hout explained that to overcome scarcity of steel pipe for installing water systems on farms and rural homes, the company has investigated the use of copper tubing. During the sales meeting, the Barnes representatives saw and demonstrated the use of copper tubing in installing water systems.

In addition to water systems, the local firm makes a full portable pump used by contractors in both farm irrigation, building construction and road building; and also a line of kitchen and bathroom faucets and shower sprinklers.

Employment levels, according to Hout, have remained constant throughout the year. There have been no seasonal layoffs at Barnes.

The company expects to increase its water system business during 1949, Hout said, thus continuing high employment.

Retired Clerk Dies at Willard

WILLARD—Adam Holtzhauer, 65, retired clerk who was born in Germany but came here 63 years ago, died at 7 a. m. today in Willard Municipal hospital after a month's illness. He was a member of the local Moose and Eagles lodges.

Surviving are his widow, Maymie; mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Holtzhauer of Willard and a sister, Mrs. R. A. Taylor of Willard. Rites will be at 1 p. m. Saturday in the Fink funeral home here with Rev. G. C. Heffelfinger, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, officiating. Burial will be in Willard cemetery.

Lumbermens Reports Increase In Assets of $1,000,000 In '48

The amount of business done by the Lumbermens Mutual Insurance company for the first 11 months of this year set an all-time record, it was announced today.

Company figures for the first 11 months of the year were reviewed at a meeting of the board of directors today.

The board announced that the figures showed an increase of more than $1,000,000 in company assets bringing the total amount of assets to approximately $6,900,000.

The amount of surplus increased approximately $360,000 during the 11 month period to bring the total amount to more than $1,900,000.

Net premiums written by the company now total $4,568,000, an increase of $728,000 during the 11-month period.

Company losses are approximately the same for the 11-month period as they were for the same period last year, the board said.

The directors also announced that the year-end bonus which will be paid to approximately 300 employes this year will be the largest ever paid by the company. They declined to reveal the total. The bonus will be divided among employes according to length of service with the company.

Members of the board of directors include Charles E. Nail, Paul Eliot, Dale G. Roth, S. F. Coffin, and Louis Ott, all of Mansfield; Robert H. Campbell of Toledo, and Findley Torrence of Xenia.

supervision of Mrs. Earl Hetrick, Christmas program chairman. The music will be presented by the glee clubs of the school under the direction of Miss Ellena Percy and Mrs. Ralph McGraw, music supervisors.

A Christmas movie today in the gymnasium started festivities at the Rebecca Grubaugh school. Tomorrow they will be continued with an assembly program in the morning, followed by Christmas parties and treats in the individual rooms. The assembly program will consist of carol singing, plays, recitations and Bible stories.

Santa Claus will appear at West Fifth school and there will be treats and Christmas movies for the youngsters. All will join in singing carols.

Gift exchanges in the different rooms of the Woodland avenue school will highlight tomorrow for pupils there. Groups will get together in the halls for carol singing and there will be special parties, in some instances entertained at a Yuletide party.

Three hundred are expected to join in carol singing at the Brinkerhoff school. Pupils will be divided into two groups, first second and third and the upper three grades, each taking their turn at making the halls ring with music. Programs will be given in individual rooms.

Santa will visit the three lower grades at Prospect school as they gather at 1 p. m. tomorrow for a Christmas exchange and party. At the same time the three upper grades will have individual festivities with gift distribution and fun.

Country Day school had a tea this afternoon for parents and friends of the 52 children. Pupils were hosts and served their elders. It is an annual custom at the school.

birthdays and refreshments combined with the Yule observance.

Pupils at Hedges have been making gifts for their parents during the past week. In addition, their art work has taken on a Christmas atmosphere and trees adorn the walls in place of the evergreens. The halls at Hedges will ring with songs throughout the day as the first three grades get together for carols, and the fourth, fifth and sixth combine to sing. Besides, Santa will make his appearance in the rooms.

Following their annual custom, pupils at Newman will march down the big stairway to join those on the first floor in the big hall and greet the Christmas season with songs. It is a custom which both pupils and teachers enter with enthusiasm. Santa is expected to arrive and there will be gift exchanges in the rooms.

Carols will ring in the halls at Carpenter school tomorrow afternoon, with pupils being treated to a Christmas movie and gifts, distributed by a Santa.

At Bowman, carolers will follow their annual custom of congregating in the upper and lower halls and singing back and forth to each other. The sixth grade pupils are having a play in the auditorium and there will be programs and gift giving in the other rooms.

At 10 a. m. tomorrow carolers will gather in the hall at Bushnell to greet Christmas with a joyous chorus of song. Then they will go to their rooms for Christmas parties. At 1:30 p. m., the mothers of the school will be

From where I sit . . . by Joe Marsh

The Missus "Ducks" Out

Slim Hartman took his missus duck hunting the other day. And after five hours of sitting in a swamp, she'd had enough! Going home, Slim reminded her good-naturedly of the time she'd taken him to a women novelist's lecture, and insisted that he sit it out.

So now the missus and Slim have an understanding. No more duck hunting for her—no more lectures for him. They decided each to his own toots.

It's because they can agree to disagree like that, I think, that Slim and the missus get on so well—content to stay home nights together, enjoying one another's company over a glass of beer and a game of chess.

From where I sit, we can't all enjoy the same things—but we can share those little pleasures that we do enjoy—a glass of beer, a game of chess, some music on the radio—and live-and-let-live when it comes to the others.

Innocent Victims of Gambling Losses

HOWEVER little attention a majority of Mansfield people are giving to the bad effects of permitting wide-open commercialized gambling to run wild in this city—with a rich harvest for the people engaged in various illegal rackets—there are at least a few who are suffering therefrom . . . as evidenced by the letter from one woman who says that she and her family of four children are being deprived of the essentials of comfortable living because of gambling losses by her husband.

That is an isolated case, of course, and any effort to prevent her husband from losing the family's money in gambling places would probably be regarded as an infringement on his "personal liberty" to make a fool of himself.

There is, however, the other angle of a community's obligation, through its charitable agencies, to see that this family is provided with the necessities of life, and that the children's Christmas be made a pleasant one, despite the disregard of the "head of the house" for his wife and children.

It must be recognized that there is a fascination about gambling which some weaklings are unable to resist, and if only such individuals were concerned the matter would not be particularly serious. But when gambling losses serve to deprive wives and children of home comforts which they might otherwise have, the whole thing looms as a serious community problem.

Chief of Police Schwab is quite right in saying that a wife, or other dependent, can recover gambling losses by court proceeding—but this is seldom done. Nor does that fact relieve a mayor and police department from responsibility of enforcing anti-gambling laws without requirement that charges be filed by victims.

Last February and March provided an excellent local example of the slight police effort required to stop the open operation of gambling places in the city—and there can be no doubt that present operations result from an "understanding" between law enforcement authorities and the person—or persons—who exerts the necessary "pull" to prevent police interference with the "wide open" policy that has been in effect since last April 1.

Some Unfinished Business In Japan

THERE ARE unanswered questions in connection with American abandonment of the plan to break up the industrial combines of Japan as an operation of the Far Eastern Commission of the United Nations. The United States report to the commission says that the fundamental aims have been achieved under the occupational military government, and that therefore the international plan can be discarded.

Most disturbing is a hint that money problems had something to do with the decision. It is suggested unofficially that the United States wants to get on with the recovery of Japan, subordinating the decentralization of industry. It is generally known that the government is beginning to have budget problems, and would like to reduce the costs of supporting former enemy territories.

The great industrial combines were the war-makers in Japan. The handful of families which controlled the wealth, industry and commerce of Japan also controlled the emperor, the military and naval planners, and their underlings. Theirs was the lust for a Japanese empire. The purpose of breaking up the combines was to smash not merely the mechanical ability to make the machines of war but also the source of the spirit of conquest.

No one likes the idea of digging up tax dollars to continue supporting the peoples who a few years ago were trying to destroy us. But it would have been fatal to allow money problems to interfere with carrying on the war. It would be just as bad to allow them to alter the program for securing the peace.

Youthful Carolers Will Sing Again

AN EVENING of song, suited to the Christmas season, is in store for Mansfielders next Sunday, as several hundred youthful carolers make up groups which will gather at fourteen designated places about the city and sing Christmas carols as they march to Central park, where all will join in a half-hour program suited to the occasion.

It is noteworthy that this form of pre-Christmas entertainment is sponsored by the young people of Senior high school who will be graduated next June, and that it follows the pattern set a year ago, when the idea was well received by the several thousand people who were privileged to enjoy the melodious singing of the youthful carolers.

It is such activities as this that tend to encourage belief that today's young folks—in the main—are pursuing a fine course and that dependence can be placed in them to provide the type of leadership that will be so urgently needed as they are called upon—all too soon—to assume the responsibilities of adult life.

Words That Live In Memory

APPROACH of Christmas gives timeliness to a brief message written 21 years ago by "a man of few words"—but it will be remembered that those "few words" were always carefully chosen.

Here it is: "Christmas is not a time or a season, but a state of mind. To cherish peace and good will, to be plenteous in mercy, is to have the real spirit of Christmas. If we think on these things, there will be born in us a Savior, and over us will shine a star sending its gleam of hope to the world."

That is the Christmas message written by Calvin Coolidge when he was president of the United States—and it is worthy of a place in the family scrap book.

Coupled with a tip from Washington that taxes are to be higher, is the afterthought: "The public must grin and bear it"—but it appears that absence of the grin will be excused.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Facts Do Not Justify Attacks On Profits

NUMBER ONE Whipping Boy for 1949 will be business profits. Anxious to legislate reckless campaign charges, Democratic leaders will begin the attack on Congress.

Labor, with its old „cost-of-living argument slipping away, will fall back on the argument of excessive corporation profits. Thus, a money-hungry administration and wage-hungry labor will hunt the same real or imaginary game.

Before this chase gets under way, it may be well to examine the reality of the so-called profits.

It will be difficult in the face of partisan statistics to get over the facts of business life. Superficially, profits seem to be very large, because not everybody is talking about the same dollars.

It is true that in gross dollars business profits have more than doubled since 1940. But units of production have increased two-thirds. And profits measured in purchasing power are no higher. Labor claims increases in line with purchasing power but denies the same equity for stockholders. What is sauce for the goose is apparently not sauce for the gander.

* * *

Production Threatened.

THERE are other equally important considerations.

Profits are not all used to pay dividends. They are in considerable part essential to the preservation and renewal of productive plants.

All plant buildings, machinery and the like cost twice as much now as they did in 1939. The depreciation rates allowed by the treasury in tax assessments have not made allowance for this. But if 10 years of depreciation at 10 per cent would by 1949 reach 100 per cent of purchasing value, business would need twice as much money for replacements.

Present tax policies plus a new tax on profits would tend to destroy the nation's greatest asset—its productive plant.

Moreover, if a commodity bought three or four years ago is now sold for more than it costs, the difference is figured by the treasury as a profit.

But if the dealer tries to repurchase the same commodities, he must pay more. Here the treasury has admitted a measure of relief. It permits the figures of inventories as if the last items bought were the first sold. That is, "last in, first out."

Corporations have avoided bad consequences by another expedient. They have made price increases larger than cost increases, but they have withheld dividends and ploughed back earnings into their businesses. Therefore, they have more working capital. The rate of earnings have been returned at the old capital figure.

But this process of self-financing will peter out. It is contrary to the old principle of a capitalistic economy. Under that principle old capital should be replaced fully by depreciations and recovered in prices, with the remainder going to stockholders. New capital should be sought from the free capital market, which is supplied by the money saved by citizens of all sorts.

If government policy shuts down on money ploughed back and also checks the savings of the people, the basis of our system of opportunity will be eaten away.

Our ancestors were commended for risking their savings in ventures for which they expected, if successful, to get good rewards. Today such savings are attacked at the source.

If this two-fold attack of government and labor is successful, capital will dry up and the government will be the only supplier of capital. It is easy to see that at the end of that road government will own business.

All these considerations must be urged with increasing force if the drive for new taxes and new wage increases is to be slowed down or stopped.

Washington Calling

Those Who Will Return

By MARQUIS CHILDS

SINCE the election a great deal has been written about the Republicans who are not coming back to Washington. But nothing much has been said about those who will return, like Mary's little lamb, bringing their records behind them.

This is not the Old Guard. In the Senate, particularly, those who will be coming back—chiefly because they were fortunate enough not to have been up for re-election—were swept in by the Republican high tide of 1946.

The voters in '46 were dissatisfied with a number of things. They decided it was time for a change and they returned a Republican Congress, but the incoming Republicans, or far too many of them, took this as a mandate to turn the clock back to the William McKinley era.

That was not at all what a majority of the voters had in mind. The Republican diehards carried in on the '46 tide were a greater handicap to Governor Dewey, in my opinion, than the Old Guard. They seemed determined to prove in the 80th Congress that the GOP had forgotten nothing and learned nothing.

The lesson was especially pointed in the West. A new crop of senators came in from Nevada, Utah, Washington, Montana and they promptly proceeded to vote against all the things dear to the West.

New Republicans such as Senators Harry P. Cain of Washington and Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin fought public housing. They represented not the people, but the housing and real estate lobbies.

By comparison, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, the majority leader, appeared to be a flaming liberal. Taft fought hard for his housing bill and got it through the Senate in spite of the obstructionist tactics of the younger Republicans. It was blocked in the House by strategists for the lobbies that were determined it should not pass.

* * *

In "Lame Duck" Category.

THE MOST conspicuous example in the group of Republican two-year olds in Senator George W. Malone of Nevada. Malone's record is not only completely reactionary on the domestic side, but on foreign policy he showed himself an old-fashioned isolationist. He voted to cut down the Republican recovery appropriation and he waas against extending the reciprocal trade agreements except for one year.

In the same class is another of the 1946 crop—Senator James Kem of Missouri. Kem's record and his point of view are early Silurian. By his standards, Dewey was a dangerous radical.

The record of Senator Zales N. Ecton of Montana is nearly as bad. So is that of Senator William E. Jenner of Indiana who was elected for short terms in 1944 and returned in '46. Judged by the outcome on Nov. 2, Sen. Arthur W. Watkins of Utah was for the most part voring against the interests of the majority in his region and in the nation.

Quite understandably the voters took these men as a sample of what Republicanism might mean if applied across the board. When President Truman hammered away at the record of the 80th Congress, he did so against the background of the votes not of the Old Guard. But of the newcomers supposedly representing the best and bravest in the party.

Looking at the returns state by state, you cannot escape the conclusion that most of the senators swept in on the '46 tide would have been defeated if they had come up this year. In a sense, then, they will be lame ducks.

Progressive Republicans in the Senate, conspicuously Senator Aiken of Vermont, have indicated that they mean to make over the leadership and direction of their party. But what they will do with these holdovers from the past is hard to see. It is possible, however, that lame ducks can read the election returns.

Mundt Not Really Averse To Publicity

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON —Senator-elect Karl Mundt of South Dakota has more prestige and common sense than any other member of the House un-American activities committee. Unlike some of his colleagues he knows the difference between right and wrong.

Writing to a South Dakota constituent about the knock-down, drag-out tactics of the committee, Mundt frankly admitted:

"I agree with you about the procedural methods of the House committee on un-American activities.

For your information, Congressman Nixon of California and I have been working for some weeks on a new set of rules to govern the procedure of our committee.

"Just as soon as Chairman Thomas is back, we expect to have the committee approve these procedures.

"Thomas," continued Mundt, "is a hard fellow to control, as he is a bit of a publicity seeker, and is also of a highly impetuous nature.

"While he usually has the facts pretty well in hand before he speaks up in public, still I do not like his method of making a public statement about an individual until he has had the opportunity to be heard before the committee. I feel certain that the abuses of which you rightfully complain are going to be corrected within the next two or three weeks."

* * *

Mundt In Grandstand.

NOT merely three weeks, but nearly 12 months have passed since that letter was written. In the interim, Parnell Thomas has been relegated to the sidelines, and here's what's been happening under the two congressmen—Mundt and Nixon—who did not approve Thomas's "publicity-seeking."

It was on Nov. 19 that the Baltimore attorneys for Hiss and Chambers called the justice department and revealed that secret state department documents had turned up in the Hiss-Chambers slander suit. Hard-working Alex Campbell, assistant attorney general, went to Baltimore that same day.

It was 12 days later, Dec. 1, that alert Robert Stripling, attorney for the un-American activities committee, first heard about the secret papers. He has since admitted that he learned about them through an item by Jerry Klutz in the Washington Post.

Immediately he telephoned Whittaker Chambers, the ex-communist agent, and asked him to stop in when he was next in Washington. Chambers, an old friend, did so, and promised to get some additional documents for the un-American activites committee.

This was done via the pumpkin at the Chambers farm in Westminster, Md. It looks now that placing the microfilm in a pumpkin was nothing more than a clever scheme to hit the newspaper headlines. Because the microfilm was not placed in the pumpkin until after the conversation between Stripling and Chambers took place.

* * *

Some Microfilm Ruined.

AFTER the un-American activities committee got the microfilm, however, it lost two rolls—because of amateur bungling. Instead of sending the film to the FBI to be developed, the committee was so anxious to keep its pumpkin-discovery out of justice department hands that it sent the film to a friend in the Veterans Administration.

There two rolls were exposed to the light and are now worthless.

Meanwhile, D. M. Ladd, assistant FBI director, went up to the un-American activities committee and asked that the microfilm be turned over to him. Assistant Attorney General Campbell made the same request. So did Attorney General Tom Clark. No result for one whole week. Finally, the nonpublicity-seeking Mundt and Nixon yielded.

Another backstage move which the public didn't know about occurred when the committee called ex-state department official Henry J. Wadleigh.

During an hour or so of grilling Wadleigh refused to say anything. Previously and secretly, however, he had told his story to Alex Campbell.

Campbell had asked him not to testify before the committee because of Section 3486, Title 18 of the U. S. Code, which states: "No testimony given by a witness before either house, or before any committee of either house . . . shall be used as evidence in any criminal proceeding against him in any court."

Campbell has also warned the un-American activities committee officially and by formal letter that testimony by witnesses before it might prevent the justice department from using this evidence later in criminal prosecution.

However, the non-publicity-seeking Mundt and Nixon have continued their frantic search for the headlines just the same.

Dewey Was Warned.

GROVER WHALEN, New York's famous and popular greeter, is sole witness to the only conversation between President Truman and Governor Dewey during the recent campaign.

It occurred at the opening of Idlewild airport last June, when Whalen introduced Truman to Dewey. On this occasion Truman made one of his proverbial off-the-cuff remarks.

"Governor," he said, "what do you want to get into the White House for? There's nothing there but trouble."

Assignment: America

Hoover and 'the Boss'

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON — The big man with the oval face and the executive manner is going to make himself a report to "the boss" sometime shortly after the first of the year—according to present plans—and he isn't going to pull any punches.

And the probability is that "the boss" will pass the bulk of the report on to Congress without pulling any punches either.

What Congress will do with it, of course, remains to be seen. But if those aforementioned first two steps come to pass, it will represent a situation extremely unlikely to occur anywhere except within the bloodless political framework of a democracy.

For the big man with the oval face and the executive manner is Herbert Hoover, Republican and only living ex-president.

The report will be the reult of many months of work by Hoover's commission on organization of the executive branch of the government.

For a time after they counted the votes on the morning after election, there were rumors flying around that, without a Republican administration and Congress in 1949, either Hoover would have to temper the sharper points of the report or Truman would not give it his support in sending it to Congress.

Lending credence to the rumors was the much-quoted remark, attributed to Hoover, that after Jan. 20 there would be "two living ex-presidents." Whether he actually said it or not did not detract from its quotability, nor did it serve to lessen the legend that soon he would be persona non grata around the White House.

Had that been true, it would almost automatically follow that Hoover's forthcoming efficiency expert plan for streamlining the executive departments of the government would be foredoomed to failure.

But apparently it is not true.

Individuals who are extremely close to the President and individuals who have worked for years with the ex-president insist (in private) that the rumors are utterly false.

During his days on Capitol Hill, no one worked harder than Harry Truman in efforts to straighten out some of the confusing and overlapping phases of administration activities.

* * *

If Truman Approves.

THE WORK now being finished by the Hoover Commission is not a new effort, although it is the most complete yet attempted. And, while past endeavors along that line inevitably were blocked by patronage-powered congressmen, the man who now is President supported them almost without exception.

Perhaps more important is the point that now the President is suffering—far more than any other single individual—from the unwieldly, disjointed and time-wasting phases of our administrative machinery, which has mushroomed almost without direction through the decades.

Finally, there is the personal point which will be most convincing to those people who knew and grew up with the man from Independence, Missouri.

It is the fact that, despite the differences in their political affiliations, Harry Truman has always had a great respect for the integrity and ability of Herbert Hoover.

That factor alone would assure the Hoover Commission report of getting the most thoughtful consideration possible from the White House.

What will happen after that, as was said before, remains to be seen. The Hoover report (as it now stands) will make no attempt to dictate what should be done, instead, it will content itself with outlining what should be done, if Congress so chooses.

And, should the President throw his full support behind the Hoover formula, Congress just might choose to do it.

Dave Boone Says:

MAYBE they should number the players in Washington to make identification simple without a program or a probe. I see where Alger Hiss, despite the handwriting testimony, again denies he ever gave out any secret documents or information to anybody.

* * *

The low boiling point of Harry Truman over the spy inquiries continues to puzzle everybody—the more so because he is a combat veteran who appreciates the suffering, anguish and death that the smallest wartime leak can cause.

* * *

Representative Nixon says that our espionage laws are full of holes. Huh! those aren't holes—they're king-size tunnels!

* * *

This country passes more laws per minute than any other country on earth. You can get a new law passed on any inconsequential matter with positively no waiting, but in the one situation where some real lawmaking is a matter of life and death we seem to be in low gear all the time.

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

THE suggestion of a realistic expense account for Mr. Truman is an interesting post-election note . . . It now appears he beat Dewey on straight salary.

* * *

Currently the President gets $75,000 a year, three cheeses from Wisconsin and 9 pounds of butter from Missouri . . . He has to provide his own eggs.

* * *

This year he also won an election, three turkeys, a box of cigars and is now waiting to hear from "Stop the Music."

* * *

But there is some question whether the turkeys are capital gain, personal income or just subject to gift tax.

* * *

For Christmas dinner the Trumans will have a choice of a tom or a hen turkey and there is reason to believe that the President never tires of finishing off Toms.

Farmer's Diary

Some Foxy Behavior

By CALVIN A. BYERS

WALKING along the high bank above the fast-moving Clearfork, I paralleled the stream, when beneath a stump I saw a dugout with shreds of gray fur about the entrance. A groundhog's winter home, I thought, and noticed that there was a rear exit with a fresh heap of rock and stone beyond the roots. I thrust one arm in, to the shoulder, and imagined I felt a warmth as of some inhabitant long asleep. Then I saw a few red hairs at the edge of the opening, and sensed that some other animal might be near.

I drew back behind the oak stump and sat awhile, enjoying the feel of the woods with the stream below. The wind blew westward toward me.

All at once, I saw a red fox coming up the beaten path toward my tree. Holding my breath, I waited, completely still. The creature climbed to within 20 feet of where I sat, when all at once he stopped, drew his brush about his hind quarters, smelled, turned around three times and complacently sat down. He looked so somber and intelligent and was so beautifully posed that I admired him. A sudden flea bite made him start, turn and bite at his own back and flank, like any dog.

Then, exasperated, he jumped up and retraced his steps down the path toward the river, grabbing in his mouth a dry stick that lay on the trail.

He went in slowly, head up, with the piece of dry branch in his mouth and finally swam toward the riffling current with his body completely submerged. There he let go the stick and it went bobbing lightly down stream . . . carrying all his fleas with it! When he came out and shook himself there was, I thought, merriment on his foxy countenance.

Foxes keep their den scrupulously free from vermin before the birth of the litter of four to nine. During his mate's confinement—until the little foxes have their eyes open—the male fox brings food to the den's mouth but does not enter.

A farmer told me he saw a fox, chased by dogs, run right in with a flock of sheep and ride on the broad back of a stiff-legged bouncing ewe to the nearest rickrack fence, where he leaped off, grinned, and dared the dogs to smell anything but mutton!

'Miracle of Flight' Gets Honors

Kitty Hawk On Display In America

Wrights' Air History Traced

By JAMES J. STREBIG

WASHINGTON, —(AP) — Ice had formed overnight on rain puddles in the hard packed sand. In a wooden shack two young men huddled over a stove and gloomily watched the wind whip across the low island to the North Carolina mainland.

It was early morning Dec. 17, 1903. The wind speed indicator fluttered between 24 and 27 miles an hour.

At 10 o'clock, Wilbur and Orville Wright hung out a signal for the men at Kill Devil life saving station, and soon three coast guardsmen and two other visitors trooped in. They began the business of laying a 60-foot single rail on a level stretch of sand.

The flying machine was trundled out and balanced on the rail.

There were last minute checks of guy wires and fastenings before Orville, then 32, crawled aboard on his belly, fitted his hips into a cradle, grasped the control lever, warmed up the engine, pulled the wire that loosed the craft's mooring, and started slowly along the rail.

Wilbur trotted alongside, balancing the plane by holding the right wing tip. After 40 feet of rolling and sliding along the track, the plane rose into the air for an unstead journey of 120 feet before a sudden downward dart sent it bumping along the sand.

Orville Wright described the incident in a letter:

"This flight lasted only 12 seconds, but it was nevertheless the first in the history of the world in which a machine carrying a man had raised itself by its own power into the air in full flight, had sailed forward without reduction of speed, and had finally landed at a point as high as that from which it started."

The witnesses were John T. Daniels, who snapped a preaimed camera as the plane rose; W. S. Dough and A. D. Etheridge, all coast guardsmen; W. C. Brinkley OF Manteo, and Johnny Moore, a boy from Nagshead who is the only living member of the group.

After the first successful run the machine was hauled back to the starting point.

It was Wilbur's turn. He flew nearly 200 geet in 13 seconds. Orville made the third flight, going over 200 feet in 15 seconds. Wilbur made the fourth journey above the sand, a spectacular trip of 852 feet in 59 seconds. However, in landing the support for the front rudder was broken.

It was now after noon. They went to the shack, prepared lunch, then sent a telegram to their father, Bishop Milton Wright, in Dayton.

REPORT DOUBTED

Few persons accepted the report as fact for a long time.

Wilbur and Orville were the third and fourth sons of Bishop Wright, of the United Brethren church, and Susan Catherine Koerner Wright. They ran a bicycle shop in Dayton, O.

As boys they were taught early to earn the money they wanted to spend, gained a thirst for knowledge, a habit of tinkering and developing and a practice of making decisions for themselves.

How thorough they were in planning is shown by a single achievement: The first airplane they ever built, powered by the first multiple cylinder engine they ever built, using the first propellers they ever built—all based on their own research—flew successfully.

So far as anyone can foresee now, the principles developed will be sound bases for flight as long as aircraft have wings.

The Wrights' first offer of the "flying machine" was to the war department. They dealt with the British, French and German governments before the United States army finally purchased one in 1909 for $30,000, including a $5,000 bonus for exceeding speed requirements.

The original plane had cost $1,000 without allowance for the brothers' time, but they spent many thousands of dollars more in development and promotion of the Wright "Flyer" before the first sale.

Flight test headquarters were set up at Huffman's pasture, a 68-acre field northeast of Dayton. The first full circle was flown Sept. 20, 1904. By the end of the 1905 season a single flight of 38 minutes covering 24 miles in circles and "s" turns had been achieved. The brothers devoted most of 1906 and 1907 to building up protection for their patent.

Public flight demonstrations were begun in France in 1908 by Wilbur in August, and at Fort Myer by Orville in September. Within a year Louis Bleriot crossed the English channel by air.

So rapidly did interest in flying develop that the first international air race was held in France in 1909. The United States saw its first air race at Belmont Park, New York, in 1910. Four years later the first commercial passenger flight was made in Tony Benoist's flying boat from St. Petersburg to Tampa, Fla.

The first world war brought a pooling of the nation's aviation talent. The great strides forward were clearly see in the years that followed.

That is the era known informally as the "golden age of aviation." Records were everywhere waiting to be broken—and from 1919 to 1938, daring young men and women busied themselves doing it.

The Wright brothers' first plane was sent to London by Orville Wright in 1928.

The Wrights had won a dozen patent suits in this country and others in Europe as they fought to uphold in law the achievement all recognized in the air. There

EASY, THERE—Workmen at the National Air Museum, a unit of the Smithsonian Institution, hoist the Wright brothers' Kitty Hawk airplane into exhibit position at Washington, D. C. Explains Deadline

Landlords who want to raise the rent on lease-rented properties the 15 per cent allowed by law must make application at the office of the housing expediter by Jan. 1, George H. Blecker, area rent officer, announced today.

Becker said, however, other adjustments following major improvements or increased services can be made at any time.

People apparently have misconstrued previous announcements to mean all adjustments had to be applied for by the Jan. 1 deadline judging from the large increase in the volume of business at his office, Blecker said. He stressed the point that adjustments of rent can be made after Jan. 1 if facts warrant the increase.

He warned again the 15 per cent increase is allowed only in cases where a lease is invilved, and any unauthorized increase by that percentage is a violation of the federal rent control law.

British Soldiers Training For Malayan Jungle Fighting

SINGAPORE — (AP) — Britain's young soldiers, training to wipe out Malaya's communist insurgents, are learning to be combination "footpads, cat burglars and poachers."

That's how one veteran officer describes the special education in jungle warfare given in a British army camp "somewhere in the jungles."

The 3,000 or more communist guerrillas fighting to overthrow the British in Malaya specialize in hit and run tactics. Counterattacks, consequently, depend on split-second reaction, boldness and accuracy.

The jungle fighter must be quick and daring in close quarter combat, with or without weapons. One course at the training camp teaches everything from how to break a half-nelson to how to disarm a sword-brandishing attacker when weaponless.

Seeing your enemy first and doing something about it before he does saves lives in the jungle. Training on a jungle range is designed specifically to develop a sensitive eye for hidden enemies and cunning booby traps.

"We have to teach them to look through the jungle instead of at it," explained the range instructor.

Yellow and green tin targets in head and shoulder shapes are set up along a narrow, winding jungle path. Some of the targets spring up automatically when the soldier approaches. The novice jungle fighter creeps along the path, firing at every target sighted. Reminded that every one missed represents a shooting enemy, he learns quickly.

Britain's jungle warriors learn, too, how to become part of the jungle shadows camouflaged by green uniform and makeup for hands and face.

Tommy's textbook for Malaya eventually embraces much more than that. It includes how to cross a river fully dressed and with full kit, building jungle shelters, knowing which jungle plants to use and which to avoid and how to cook without dishes and without smoke.

Midwestern Food Prices Take Drop

Ample Supply Forces Cut

(By Associated Press)

Vegetable shortening prices declined about two cents a pound in the nation's major grocery stores this week—the first general reduction of the year.

Back of that price cut are the bumper vegetable harvests and a fats and oils production level which may well break peacetime records this year.

Lard was down a few pennies also, reflecting lower pork prices and the competition with vegetable shortening.

Meat prices eased slightly, especially in the midwest, with beef leading the decline. One chain in the Chicago-Indianapolis-Milwaukee area, for example, reduced good to choice beef cuts as much as eight to 10 cents a pound. Another sold rib cut pork loins as low as 35 cents a pound and picnic hams at 39 cents.

Food circles reported hams in brisk demand in most sections of the country. To some extent this was attributed to substitute buying by housewives reluctant to pay the current high price of turkeys, usually in high seasonal demand at this time.

Christmas turkey prices won't be posted until Monday or Tuesday, but market spokesmen believe they may run to 10 cents higher than the Thanksgiving level.

This is because of the scanty supply of birds under 15 pounds and because farmers have withdrawn sizable number of small hens for breeding purposes to take advantage of the lower cost of feed grains since fall. By mid-November, many turkey farmers were receiving record prices for their gobblers—46.1 cents a pound.

Frying chickens are in good supply at present, as a result of those lower feed prices. But trade figures indicate that poultry receipts as a whole may be 10 per cent under last year and the lowest since 1943.

Candy for Christmas buying promises to be in excellent supply, as compared with the shortages which developed in many cities during the Yuletide season last year. Top grade assorted chocolates were selling as low as 63 cents a pound in many eastern supermarkets.

Canton Pastor Set For Cool Reception

U. S. Attorney Has Chance to Regain Nickel

CINCINNATI, — (INS) — A prisoner who borrowed a nickel from a federal officer to make a telephone call 14 months ago has been taken into custody in St. Louis.

The FBI recalled yesterday that John A. Combs, 26, formerly of Norwood, Cincinnati suburb, was brought to the federal building in October of last year after announcing he was ready to plead guilty to a charge of auto theft.

As he awaited arraignment he asked permission to make a phone call. He borrowed a nickel from assistant U. S. Attorney William J. Dammarell, stepped out in the corridor, and disappeared.

CHRISTMAS THEME USED FOR SAPPHO PROGRAM

Musical and Literary Entertainment Presented At Women's Club Following Luncheon.

SAPPHO CLUB members held their annual Christmas party Wednesday afternoon at the Women's Club with Mrs. R. J. Hammer presiding as hostess. Luncheon was served to 30 at tables decorated with tall white tapers, greenery and miniature figurines.

Four guests were welcomed for the occasion. They were Mrs. William Kehr, Mrs. Elizabeth Tiel, Mrs. H. D. Bishop and Miss Carol Wolford.

Members brought gifts, gaily wrapped, to be given to the children at the Friendly House.

The committee in charge of the program was composed of Mrs. J. M. Johnston, Mrs. James Bailley, Mrs. Paul Eliot, Mrs. L. S. Houk and Mrs. Jay Chubbs.

Mrs. Johnston presented an interesting Christmas story, "Christmas at Trimbles."

For the musical part of the program Richard Eliot favored with four violin selections, "Adoration" by Borowski, "Angels' Serenade" by Politzer, "Yuletide Melodies" by Harvey, and "The Sleigh Ride" by Klauss.

A trio, composed of Mrs. Bishop, pianist; Richard Eliot, violinist; and Richard Bishop, celloist, played "Serenade" by Toselle, "Minuet in A" by Bocharrinne, and "Adagio Sustenuto" by Beethoven.

Mrs. Jay Chubbs sang "Sweet Little Jesus Boy" by Mac Ginnsey and "Jesu Bambino" by Yon.

The next meeting will be held Jan. 5 at the Women's Club with Mrs. A. C. Butterfield as hostess.

Mrs. Schmotzer Entertains Church Guild

Mrs. Norman Schmotzer, 383 Henry street, entertained members of the Christian Service Guild of the First Evangelical United Brethren church Wednesday evening. She was assisted by Mrs. V. C. Stamets, Mrs. Glenn Ewers, Mrs. Edward Jackson, Mrs. M. Schunatz and Mrs. Barr.

A Christmas program was presented by Mrs. William Frend and Mrs. Raymond Oyler. Mrs. Stamets entertained the group with a reading, "The Candle". The theme of the group discussion was "Christmas Customs From Foreign Lands".

Mrs. Willard Boals, South Main street, was named as the next hostess, to entertain on Jan. 11, assisted by Mrs. Clarence Pollock. Santa Claus delivered gifts for each one and secret pals were revealed.

Wesleyan Service Guild Entertained

Fifteen members and one guest were present at the Wesleyan Service guild of the Central Methodist church meeting held at the home of Miss Betty L. Fisher, 21 Glenwood Blvd.

The covered dish supper was served at a table centered with white mums, red carnations and white candles. The Christmas theme was used throughout the home.

Miss Elizabeth Burneson conducted the program. A gift exchange was held. Mrs. E. C. Jenkins was given a gift by the group, which was presented by Mrs. Glenn Cline.

Miss Mary Dotson played Christmas music on the recorder.

The next meeting will be January 17 with the place announced at a later date.

Quilt Knotted During Meeting

Mrs. Martin Remlong, Westview blvd., was hostess to members of the Excelsior class of the First Lutheran church for a business session, in charge of Mrs. Marvin Stevens. The hostess opened the program with devotions followed by prayer given by Mrs. M. D. Harnley.

An exchange of Christmas gifts was held. During the evening the group knotted a guilt. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Remlong.

Mrs. Joe Winbigler, 240 Greenlawn, will be the next hostess on January 25.

Service League Holds Social

Mrs. Henry Fisher, Lind avenue, was hostess to members of the Mansfield Service League Wednesday with 16 in attendance. Luncheon was served at small tables which were decorated with holiday appointments.

Bridge was the diversion of the afternoon with prizes presented to Mrs. O. H. McDaniels and Mrs. Leonard Jones. An exchange of gifts was held.

The next meeting will be held Jan. 11 in the undercroft of the Grace Episcopal church. Sewing will be done for the Children's Home.

Circle Convenes At Taylor Home

The annual Christmas party of Circle III of the Park avenue Baptist church was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. W. M. Taylor with 18 members present.

Devotions and a gift offering were in charge of Miss Edna Boswell. She also read a Christmas story accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Clayton Frank. Mrs. H. E. Neese, guest speaker, gave the history of caroling and played a few carol recordings.

A short business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Robert Small, followed the program. A gift exchange preceded the refreshments which were served by the hostess and her associates, Mrs. J. P. Keith and Mrs. Neese.

Seasonal Party, Program Given

A Christmas party and program was held by Delano Ladies auxiliary, No. 6, in the Lodge hall.

Mrs. Clay Crowl, Mrs. Arthur Shay and Mrs. Harry Bowman read several stories appropriate for the season. Each member present took part in the program.

Contests were the diversion of the evening with prizes going to Mrs. Glenn Speelman and Mrs. Floyd Welsh. The gift of the evening was won by Mrs. Roy Crawford.

Refreshments were served from one long table centered with a small Christmas tree. Each place was marked with a favor for the holidays. Mrs. Crowl, Mrs. Harry Gerhart and Mrs. Harry Bowman were the hostesses for the meeting.

Election of officers will be held at the next regular meeting, December 28, in the clubrooms.

Installation Held For Mrs. Williams

Mrs. Janet Williams was installed as senior vice commander of the Disabled American Veterans auxiliary when they met Wednesday in the clubrooms.

Mrs. Frank Brown, state senior vice commander, was the visiting officer and presented the group with a Bible.

Refreshments were served buffet style from a table decorated in keeping with the holiday season.

The next regular meeting will be January 12 at 8 p.m. in the clubrooms.

Holiday Party Held By Church Society

Mrs. Fred Proctor, 604 Highland avenue, was hostess Wednesday afternoon to members and guests of the Women's Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church. Five guests, Mrs. Clair Kochoffer, guest speaker, Mrs. Harry L. Bowers, Mrs. Winifred Johnson, Mrs. Charles Chew and Mrs. Clara Riel of Ottawa, were present.

Mrs. W. W. Crouch, the associate hostess, was in charge of the devotions, reading the scripture and an article on "Thresholds of Light."

Mrs. Orlan Hoyer, president, conducted the business session. Roll call was answered with scripture verses.

Mrs. Crouch opened the Christmas party by reading the story "Keeping Christmas." "Christmas Chimes" was the talk given by Mrs. Kochoffer.

Previous to the general meeting the missionary prayer session in charge of Mrs. A. E. Courtney was held.

Refreshments were served buffet style from a table decorated with pines and candles. The house was decorated throughout with pines and candles.

The next regular meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Edna Rusk, 148 Sherman place, Jan. 19.

Group Honors Birthdays

Sixteen members of the American Legion Auxiliary Bridge club met recently at the Evergreens for the club's birthday luncheon and Christmas party. The two long tables were decorated with red tapers, greenery and miniature snow men, which were later presented to each guest as a favor. A Christmas gift exchange was held.

The party was concluded with members singing "Happy Birthday," honoring those present who had celebrated their birthday during the past three months.

The group then went to the club rooms at the Legion home for contract. At the end of play prizes were awarded to Mrs. Hollis Moorhead, Mrs. Frank Duff and Mrs. Charles Benedict.

Hostesses for the party were Mrs. James Brownscombe, Mrs. Ernest Haman, Mrs. Dwright McCullough, Mrs. Fonda Murray, Mrs. Charles Sanderson, Mrs. Duff and Mrs. Moorhead.

The group will meet again on December 28 at the Legion home with Mrs. Max Lewis as hostess.

Refreshments were served buffet style from an attractively appointed table. Associate hostesses were Mrs. F. David Boals, Mrs. W. L. Old, Mrs. W. W. Peirce and Mrs. L. A. Schrack.

Christmas gifts were exchanged by the group and during the social hour numbers were sung by the Senior high school carolers. The business session was in charge of the president, Mrs. W. E Morrissey.

The next meeting will be held Jan. 17 at the home of Mrs. Samuel U. J. Peard, Bowman street, for a luncheon at noon.

MEET FRIDAY

The regular meeting of the Star Class of the Evangelical United Brethren church will be held Friday at the home of Mrs. Charles Shupple, 301 Superior street. Members will convene at 2 p. m. and will have a gift exchange.

DIVISION ONE

Division One of the First United Presbyterian church will meet Friday at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Windsor, 408 Henry street.

Use citrus fruits for first course salads, combining them with crisp raw vegetables. Grapefruit sections go well with celery and olives; orange sections are delicious with endive or escarole.

LOVE MATCH . . . Classic sweater set of dark green wool, dyed to match a tweed skirt of green and white checks, cut high in front with adjustable back belt.

Dramatization Given to Sorosis

Twenty-six members and one guest, Mrs. E. R. Hartman were present at the Christmas party and covered-dish dinner of the Mansfield Sorosis club Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Lowell Bourns, Russell road.

The dining room table was decorated with white and colored balls and white candles and a miniature Christmas tree formed the centerpiece. Evergreen decorations were placed throughout the house.

Mrs. Fred Troll led the group singing in Christmas carols. A short Christmas story was told by Mrs. Hartman. Dickens' "Christmas Carol" was dramatized with the following members taking parts: Mrs. L. D. Tech, Mrs. Geoge Hout, Mrs. W. H. Gifford, Mrs. W. W. Purdy, Mrs. E. D. Gibson and Mrs. R. M. Beatty.

A white elephant gift exchange was held and the remainder of the evening was spent socially. The next meeting will be held Jan. 4 at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. W. Frank Wilson, 667 Highland avenue.

HOROSCOPE

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Friday, December 17

BY dint of sheer attack upon snarled and perplexing entanglements, in which peculiar or strange factors give complexity and, by direct and clever attack upon unusual or hidden factors, an involved and threatened impasse may be remedied. But keep alert to trickery, or fraud, and fortify position and asse's, as well as credit and reputation, in business and personal file.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may have the opportunity of demonstrating unusual creative talents in which novel or unique ideas, cleverly and practically put over, may save a menaced or involved crisis in important affairs. This is true in business, finance, innovations, as well as in all sorts of exceptional personal relations. A tricky or sensational undercurrent may be forthwith dragged from its roots to a surprising turn of vital matters into safe and fruitful channels. Protect funds, credit and reputation.

A child born on this day may be clever, original and daring, with talents and skills needed to keep in safe and sound creative channels. Strange or unprincipled tendencies should be "nipped in the bud."

DANCE FRIDAY

The Order of the Rainbow for Girls will hold their Christmas formal tomorrow night at the Mansfield Leland hotel from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. Mike Hillingoss and his orchestra will supply the music.

Joint Meeting Held at Church

A joint meeting of the Golden Rule Bible class and the Pastor's Aid society of St. Mark's Lutheran church was held at the church with 20 in attendance. A covered dish dinner was served at noon.

Hostesses were Mrs. J. E. Wolfgang Mrs. Elma Stichler, Mrs. C. A. Portz and Mrs. Vernon Mulquine.

During the business session all officers were re-elected. They are: Mrs. Samuel Berger, president; Mrs. Charles Rouse, vice president; Mrs. Charles Cline, secretary, and Mrs. Charles House, treasurer.

There will be a joint meeting of the two groups on Jan. 11 with Mrs. Clarence Boals, 565 Bowman street, as hostess. She will be assisted by Mr. Charles Rouse, Mrs. Marshall Long and Mrs. J. F. Steele.

Linnaeus Club Makes Decorations

Mrs. Henry Paulsen, 524 Beechwood drive, was hostess to members of the Linneaus Garden club for a day spent in making Christmas decorations and using the product styro foam to carve angels, reindeer, Christmas trees and other objects. Evergreen, holly, winter berry and silver branches were used to create table, mantel and buffet arrangements.

Before the members adjourned Mrs. Paulsen exhibited a large collection of artistically wrapped packages and showed how each was made.

Mrs. Ray Hammer, vice president, conducted a short business session at which time a report was made of a new Oxford book, "Flowers in Color."

The next meeting will be January 18 at the home of Mrs. Fred Dippman, Park avenue west road.

Mothers' Club Given Annual Dinner Party

Mothers' Club members of the American Legion Auxiliary held their annual Christmas dinner party Wednesday in the dining room of the Happy Harry Restaurant. Places were laid for 19 members and four guests, Mrs. Dwight McCullough, president of the auxiliary, Mrs. James Brownscombe, past president of the auxiliary, Miss Marie Kalbfleisch, president of the fifth district, and Mrs. Faye Fairman.

The group was served at a long table which was centered with a miniature Christmas tree and other decorations. Pine sprays and red bows also trimmed the table.

Mrs. McCullough and Mrs. Marjorie Ludwig presented each member of the club with a gift. During the social hour a Christmas gift exchange was held. Mrs. Clara Ruddock served as general chairman for the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob M. Henke On Honeymoon Trip In East

HONEYMOONING in the east are Mr. and Mrs. Jacob M. Henke, who exchanged nuptial vows Dec. 11 at 3:30 p. m. in St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church. The Rev. John C. Melchert officiated for the double ring ceremony of Jeannette June Andrews and Jacob Henke.

The altar was decorated with altar candles and baskets of pompons.

Mrs. Henke, who resided at 200 Marshall avenue, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Andrews, Bellville, Ohio. Mr. Henke is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Henke, 355 Taylor road.

Mrs. Helen Heston presided at the organ and Mrs. Philip Sturtzinger was the soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a light aqua suit with a pink ostrich tip hat and a pink blouse. She had a pink rosebud corsage to complete her costume.

Miss Mildred Hocking wore a grey suit and hat fashioned like the bride's. She wore black accessories with her attire and her hat was trimmed with grey ostrich feathers. Her corsage was of red roses.

Mrs. Andrews chose a navy blue street length dress with grey accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Henke was attired in a royal blue dress with blue accessories. Both mothers had corsages of Talisman roses.

The guests were ascorted to their pews by Richard Jensen, of Bellville, brother of the bride, and Jack Nagle, cousin of the bridegroom.

A reception was held from 7:30 to midnight at the Mansfield Liederkranz. Two hundred and fifty guests were present for the dancing and buffet lunch.

For her honeymoon the new Mrs. Henke wore a brown suit with grey accessories.

Mrs Henke is a graduate of Bellville high school aand employed at the Westinghouse Electric corporation. Mr. Henke graduated from Mansfield Senior high school aand is also employed at Westinghouse.

Out-of-town guests present at the wedding were from Detroit, Warren and Toledo.

New idea for baked apples: Wash and core Rome Beauty apples. Cut in half crosswise, cover with canned pineapple juice and bake until tender. This Rome Beauty apple variety is especially choice for baking because it is plump and firm, with fine tangy flavor.

* * *

The state of Washington last year shipped more than 32,000,000 boxes of apples throughout the country for fresh fruit consumption, approximately one box to every family, or one box for every third man, woman or child.

Christmas Art Discussed By Society

Twenty-six members and two guests attended the C party given for the Florence Welty Missionary Society First Lutheran church. Hostess for the occasion was Mrs. Othoar Holton, 519 Park avenue west, who was assisted by Mrs. Arthur Grau, Mrs. Jack Hooks and Mrs. O. W. Aughbaugh.

Theme of the Christmas program was "Christmas Through the Arts" and was in charge of Miss Mary Jane Bolus and Mrs. Katherine McMichael Carpenter.

Miss Bolus presented paintings of the Madonna and Child, typical of various periods. Carols were sung by the Senior high school carolers.

A brief business meeting was in charge of Mrs. Richard Wolford. The society has contributed many layettes to be sent to Europe. This project has been in charge of Mrs. Arthur Grau.

On Jan. 10 Mrs. Martin Remlong, Westview boulevard, will be the hostess

Mohican Club Closes Season

Mohican Garden club closed their season with a Christmas tea at the home of Mrs. Robert Wolford, Bartley avenue, with Mrs. Vaughn Thompson and Mrs. Richard Hall assisting. Sixteen were present and during the business meeting planned to decorate the Nurses' Home for Christmas.

Mrs. Tom Forrest, Mrs. Hedges Princehorn and Mrs. Robert Wolford were named to do the decorating. Announcement was made that the club had been welcomed into the Garden Club of Ohio.

Mrs. Ned Brooks and Mrs. Richard Porch were named to the horticulture committee, and Mrs. Stephen Dickerson as conservation chairman.

Mrs. William Daisley presented the program on "Make Your Own Merry Christmas" Later the group made decorations for their own front doors.

At a late hour tea was served with Mrs. Daisley pouring. Tall lighted tapers and evergreens decorated the table. A handkerchief exchange was held by the members.

Christmas Coloring Adds Festive Touch To Food

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
(By United Press)

NEW YORK—(UP)—Red or green sugar sprinkled on the breakfast grapefruit is one simple way to carry Christmas colors to the breakfast table.

Tint granulated sugar with red or green food coloring to give it the holiday touch. Or open a can of cranberry jelly and cut it into shapes of tiny bells, stars or Christmas trees to decorate the grapefruit.

Sometimes these easy-to-do tricks give as much of a festive touch to holiday meals as a recipe that takes hours to prepare. For instance, red and green soup can be turned out in a jiffy to start off an informal evening supper.

Dilute and heat a can of green pea soup in one pan and a can of tomato soup in another pan. With one pan in each hand, pour the two soups into the serving bowl at the same time, pouring one soup from one side of the bowl and one from the other. Each soup stays on its own side as the bowl fills, and the result is a gay, green and scarlet first course.

WREATHS CAN BE EATEN

The children will get a big kick out of making or eating crisp chocolate Christmas wreaths To make ten edible wreaths about three inches in diameter, use three-quarter pound semi-sweet chocolate bits and 3½ cups of ready-to-eat cereal flakes. Melt the chocolate over hot, but not boiling, water and stir in the cereal flakes. When the cereal is well coated place spoonsful of the mixture on waxed paper and form into wreaths with two forks.

Tiny red or silver bell candies can be used to represent berries or lights. Set the wreaths in a cool place until the chocolate hardens As a final touch, they can be tied with red ribbon bows before serving.

An all-time record crop of pecans makes them a good choice for holiday candy recipes. The government experts are also suggesting pecans as meat extenders and in baked goods, since they are rich in food value as well as taste appeal.

Here's a recipe for a fruit and nut paste to add to the confection tray you'll pass to guests.

NUT PASTE

1 lb. nuts
1 lb. figs
1 lb. dates
1 cup clear-corn syrup
Juice of one orange

Grind nuts (either pecans, almonds or walnuts), figs and dates. Mix with syrup and orange juice. Knead until well mixed. Shape into small pieces, roll in granulated sugar, and place nut or candied cherry on top.

Music Given To Monnett Club Party

The home of Mrs. Paul Eliot, 40 Bartley avenue, was the scene of the Christmas party for members of the Monnett club of Ohio Wesleyan University. Mrs. J. Howard Gongwer presided for the business session which was attended by 30.

A new constitution was presented by Mrs. Harold Robson, and will be acted upon at the next meeting. The Alumni meeting was reported by Mrs. John Stout.

The social hour consisted of a program in keeping with the season. Mrs. A. C. Butterfuield played a piano solo and Mrs. Marvin Pingel sang three numbers. Mrs. Richard Wolford favored with a piano solo and Miss Bertha Ruess presented a Christmas story.

Christmas carols were played on the violin by Richard Eliot, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Paul Eliot.

At a later hour refreshments were served at a long table dainty with holiday appointments. Mrs. Elizabeth Tiel poured. The group will convene again sometime in February.

Lime Home Scene of Tea

Mrs. Wallace Firestone was the only guest present at the Berean Bible club's annual Christmas tea and program, held at the home of Mrs. H. C. Lime, 501 East Townview circle. Sixteen members were in attendance.

The members answered roll call with quotations from the Bible.

Mrs. H D Braden, vice president, conducted the business session. The devotions were given by Mrs. Braden using the Christmas story as her topic.

Mrs. H. M. Hout presided for the program. It was opened with an article on "Keeping Christmas" followed by Christmas carols. Mrs. J. K. Linsenmayer read an article on "Christmas In Other Lands."

The hostess, Mrs. Lime, told the Christmas story, "Why the Chimes Ring." During the story organ music was played in the background. A Christmas chime was used for effect as the article was told.

Mrs. Linsenmayer presided at the table for the tea. A Christmas scene centered the table surrounded with holly. Sacred music was played during the serving.

Mrs. Hout and Mrs. Frank Herman assisted Mrs. Lime.

The next regular meeting will be January 11 at the home of Mrs. H O Baer, 552 East Townview circle.

Rosy apple rings are a good choice to serve with pork or sausage and offer a delicate flavor contrast. Select Rome Beauty baking apples which are firm and crisp. Wash, dry and slice in half inch slices. Core, then saute in a small amount of fat on both sides until brown. May be dotted with brown sugar if desired.

Chapter AT Has Holiday Musicale

Chapter AT, P. E. O. Sisterhood, met Wednesday morning at the home of Mrs. John Ashbaugh, Woodland road. Mrs. Reese Mills served as associate hostess. Eighteen members and one guest, Mrs. Joseph Pruitt, Bryn Mawr, Pa., were in attendance.

Members discussed their Christmas project, which is to entertain people at the Hammond home, Park avenue west, with music, carols and gifts for Christmas.

Each member gave an original Christmas poem. Mrs. William Hazeltine was in charge of the program, which consisted of music by a chorus of her students. This group was composed of Katherine Beatty, Marilyn Schuler, Donna Loesch, Martha Bell, Charlotte Boyd, Ro Anne Farry and Mona Hammett. Linda Wilson favored with three solos. The young women were accompanied by Mrs Hazeltine and Miss Louise Krause.

Luncheon was served at noon in the game room at one long table, laid with a red cloth. Decorations were in keeping with the holiday season. A large Christmas tree decorated the room.

The next meeting will be held Jan 5 at the home of Mrs. Hamilton Maginniss, Marion avenue, with Mrs. Richard Shaw assisting.

If all the apples grown in the United States were heaped together, one in every dozen would be a red-cheeked Jonathan, the famous variety grown in Washington state.

Hedges Mothers Entertained

The annual Christmas party for the Hedges Mothers' club was held in the school gym with pupils from the school furnishing the program, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Charles Myers opened the business meeting and gave a Christmas story. Miss Lucille Beattie's room won the attendance prize.

An exchange of gifts was held. The first, second and third grade students gave a varied program of readings and songs. Among those participating were Carol Workman, Marilyn Pamer, Charles Shrewsberry, Eugene Foncannon, Karen Montague, Judy Clark, Ronald Swinehart, Carol Sue Columbus, Shirley Walters, Keith Mitchell, Marlene Schonauer, Janet Bryner, Shirley Kerr, Janet Uhl, Sandra Lantz, Sandra Lane, Betty Wray, Sandra Snook, L. V. Durham, Kay Fisher, James Minhinnett, Mary Ann Hampton, Joyce Smith, Barbara Metzger and James Peterson.

The next meeting of the club will be held Jan. 25 at the school gym.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Roger Delaney, Mrs. Robert Shrewsberry, Mrs. Burnau Mawhorr, Mrs. John Amsbaugh, Mrs. Louis Shrewsberry, Mrs. Guy Rent and Mrs. Raymond Workman.

Flying In and Out of Mansfield

Kettering Flies Here In Amphibian

Charles F. Kettering, vice president of General Motors corporation, landed at Mansfield Municipal airport this week in the firm's new 10-passenger Grumman Mallard Amphibian. Kettering and his pilot, Robert B. Espland, had just taken the plane from its Long Island factory.

Airport officials were impressed with the amphibian's luxuriously-furnished cabin and its highly-rated cruising speed, which is about 20 miles an hour faster than that of the DC-3's widely used by commercial airlines.

Kettering had dinner at the Sky club and then went by automobile to his Loudonville farm.

★

Instructor Wilbur H. Shafer and three commercial pilot students, Charles Hellinger, Wayne Bedson and Howard Norris flew on a dual night cross-country to Ft. Wayne and return last week.

Bedson also flew on his long solo cross-country to Ft. Wayne, Joliet, Illinois, and return.

Dr. B. M. Hathaway flew Dr. and Mrs. L. D. Bonar to Cleveland last week so the Bonars could pick up their Stinson and return to Mansfield. Charles Robertson accompanied them.

Disinterest In Politics Worries MG

German Attitude Lackadaisical

By DON DOANE

PASSAU, Germany— (AP) —"The people are not interested in politics."

This sentence recurs repeatedly in reports to military government from towns and villages throughout Germany.

It shows the problem U. S. military government faces in trying to spread democracy among people who have never learned or understood that they have a personal interest in their country's politics.

A military government official pointed to a report from Zulzbach, a small Bavarian town near here.

It contained the usual line: "The people are not interested in politics." Then it added: "They are worried, however, about Germany's future."

"There's our real problem," said the MG officer, Marvon Glossop, from Winchester, Ill.

"They're not interested in politics but they are worried about their country's future," he repeated. "What we must do is make them realize that their country's future depends upon their interest in politics.

"We must convince them that by taking an intelligent part in politics, by choosing their officials wisely, they can shape their country's future."

Military government has hammered at this theme constantly ever since the war ended. Many methods have been tried. The latest is a series of "democratization meetings" reaching even into the smallest of villages.

The villagers meet to talk over their problems—local, state, national or even personal. They discuss how they—or their government—should handle these problems.

The three years of constant effort may be producing some results. Some MG officials say now that people do not have to worry quite so much about food and heat they are beginning to think a little about politics.

Once in a while they run across a report like this, which came from the village of Fuerstenzell:

"By and by the people of this community start to take an active interest in politics again, furthered especially by the workers of the industries."

Some military government officials caution, however, that even reports like this might be misleading.

Often where "the workers of the industries" show the biggest political interest, they said, the only issue which stirs them is communism.

Three Judges To Take Oath

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt today will swear in three judges elected to the Ohio Supreme Court Nov. 2.

Judge Edward C. Turner of Columbus will be sworn in for another six year term starting Jan. 2. Kingsley A. Taft of Cleveland will succeed Judge Robert M. Sohngen of Hamilton for a six-year term starting Jan. 2.

Judge James Garfield Stewart of Cincinnati, elected to the unexpired term of Charles S. Bell of Cincinnati, will be sworn in for that term ending Jan. 1, 1953.

PLANE KILLS OHIOAN

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. — (AP) — Floyd C. Smith, 24, of this city and Ashtabula, O., was found dead beneath a private plane at the Hollywood Airpark yesterday. Patrolman Donald Sponic said Smith apparently was struck by a propeller while warming up the plane.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills. —Adv.

Entire Family Gets Relief

No longer miserable and suffering, this entire family has found relief from irritating coughs due to colds with PINEX. PINEX is a real cough medicine. Goes to work decisively—relieves parched feeling—soothes irritation—loosens phlegm—helps raspy breathing. You can't buy a finer, more effective cough medicine. Yet PINEX is amazingly economical because it's concentrated. You add the simple syrup (sugar and water or liquid honey) and get a full pint of pleasant-tasting, effective cough medicine at about ½ usual cost. Save about $2.00 a bottle. For real relief—economical relief from coughs—get PINEX from your druggist. Guaranteed to satisfy!

Patent Records Show Items Which Make Life a Pleasure

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — Science, which perfected tools to destroy men during the war, has been working overtime of late to make life easier for all of us.

For proof, run a thumb through the files of the U. S. patent office, which is located in the sprawling commerce department building here.

Take Pete Bowling of Lewiston, Ida. He has invented a newfangled shaving kit. It's even better than the new electric shavers they have in some of the 1949 cars. Men—you can clip Bowlin's gadget in your vest pocket beside your fountain pen (on mornings when you sleep through your alarm and sneak a quick shave when the boss isn't looking. No worry about running a red light while shaving with one hand and driving with the other.

The Ritepoint Pen Company of St. Louis is putting a new cigarette lighter on the market. It's a plastic deal where you can see how much fluid is left. Ever offer the vice president of your company a light and wear your thumb down a couple of joints trying to scratch up a glow?

We are indebted to Manuel Lopez, of Akron, O., for a sleeve stretcher, which ought to serve comfort to a lot of folks. There is nothing worse than buying a preshrunk sweater and learning on first getting it back from the cleaners that the sleeves have shriveled to where the thing looks like a polo shirt.

Somebody once said something about building a better mouse trap and thereby getting the world to beat a path to your door. Vernon J. Price of West Dearborn, Mich., must have had that in mind. He has designed a new animal trap that is a thing of rare beauty. Any mouse would be proud and happy to be caught in it. Its a mouse apartment, that's what it amounts to—big enough to accommodate a whole family in luxury and comfort.

Joseph J. Kispert of Mount Carmel, Conn., has a patent on a new "ventilated corset." It goes back to the old-fashioned stay like granny used to wear, but this one has an "open weave" which lets some air in when the ribs get cramped.

And if you haven't finished shopping for Mama, Marian L. Finnman of Minneapolis has a new comb—one without any teeth in the middle. It's for upsweep style hair styles and fits the contour of the head.

One of the most exciting, though, is something that got on the market by accident. We can't name any names for it would be embarrassing.

Anyhow, these fellows thought it would be cute to follow the pollsters' predictions ahead of election time and beat the smart boys to the punch. So, at great expense, they had the dies made for thousands of elephants, which nodded their heads on the principle of the little birds which were so popular a couple of years ago.

Will Announce New Officers

Annual YW Dinner To Be Held Jan. 18

The annual all-membership dinner of the YWCA will be held at the First Presbyterian church Jan. 18, the board of trustees announced today.

Mrs. Dale Channell was appointed chairman of the general committee in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. H. E. Williams, chairman of the nominating committee, will announce the results of the election of board members at the meeting.

The annual dinner is open to all members and friends of the YWCA.

Members of the board heard a report from the use-of-building committee at the meeting last night. The committee includes Mrs. Earl Kochheiser, Mrs. Eloise Buchan, Mrs. Ruth Hogan, Mrs. J. H. Finefrock, Miss Rhea Ohl, Miss Gizella Knesely and Miss Martha Bell.

The committee said in its report that the Mansfield "Y" wishes to have its building and facilities used to the maximum. After the program needs of the YWCA are met, the remaining facilities of the "Y" will be available to community groups whose programs are in accord with the YWCA purpose, it was announced. A small service charge will be made to outside groups using the building for meetings.

Miss Betty Blackstone, president of the board, appointed Mrs. George Harmony, Mrs. S. R. Baird, and Miss Margaret Wheeler to serve as a committee to nominate new officers for the board for the coming year.

Ohio Prison Chiefs Meet

Superintendents of Ohio's prison and correctional institutions will hold their quarterly meeting with heads of the state welfare department Friday at the Mansfield reformatory.

The meetings are held regularly to discuss problems and exchange ideas, Supt. Arthur L. Glattke said. They begin at noon and last through the afternoon. Each of the state's six penal and correctional institutions take turns acting as hosts to the meetings, Glattke said.

Superintendents of the Boys Industrial school at Lancaster, Ohio penitentiary, London prison farm, Women's reformatory at Marysville, Girls Industrial school at Delaware, and the bureau of juvenile research in Columbus are expected to attend.

Representatives of the state welfare department, headed by Charles L. Sherwood, will also be present for the round table discussions.

Modest GI's Ingenuity Furnished Tankers With Hedgerow 'Crusher'

NEW YORK—(AP)—Curtis G. Culin jr. made only one invention in his life—but it helped win the battle of Normandy.

It was this unheralded young sergeant who figured out a way for American tanks to crash through the French hedgerows. This led to Gen. Patton's famous dash across France.

Recognizing that the "suggestion box" principle pays off on the battlefield as well as on the industrial front, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower pays this tribute to "Bud" Culin in his memoirs:

"(He) restored the effectiveness of the tank and gave a tremendous boost to morale throughout the army."

I set out to get the sergeant's own story, and found him less impressed with his own invention than was his commander-in-chief. Ex-Sergeant Culin, a slender, blond, mild-looking man of 33, now holds an office post here.

"I commanded a light tank in the 102nd Cavalry Reconnaissance squadron," he said, "and my invention, if you want to call it that, was something anybody in the front lines would have come up with in a few days. Our squadron just happened to be the first to try it out and develop it."

For six weeks after the landing in Normandy the American army made advances measured in terms of yards rather than miles. The landscape offered almost as much resistance to progress as did the dug-in enemy.

The chief obstacles were the famous Normandy hedgerows. They were massive banks of dirt, centuries old, and topped by thick growths of shrubbery and small trees.

"When our tanks hit them, it was like cracking into a stone wall," said Culin. "And if we tried to climb over them, the under belly of the tank was exposed. The German anti-tank guns then could rip us open like sardine cans. Our own tank guns were pointed at the sky—useless. We couldn't defend ourselves."

The problem was to find a way for the tanks to force a path through the hedgerows, guns firing, instead of clamboring over them. At first combat engineers were sent out on foot to blast holes in the hedgerows. But they were picked off by German infantry.

"One day my commanding officer called a meeting of noncoms to get suggestions," said Culin. "I didn't know anything about mechanics or engineering, but I had seen a lot of German iron roadblocks.

"I suggested putting sharpened chunks of iron from these roadblocks on our tanks so we could dig through the hedgerows."

They tried it. They welded four flanges to a crossbar, fixed it to a tank—and the 15-ton vehicle pitch-forked its way right through the nearest hedgerow.

"Gen Bradley heard about it and came down to watch a demonstration," said Culin. "He saw it worked, and swore us to secrecy. He then secretly had 600 of our frontline tanks equipped. They were used to spearhead our attack."

The device caught the Germans completely by surprise, and the American army made a successful breakthrough of the nazi lines at St. Lo on July 25th, 1944—the breakthrough that carried to the Siegfried line.

"Later they called me and three others back to corps headquarters and gave us the legion of merit for the invention," said Culin. "All it meant to me was a half-day off from the front.

"One of those who got a medal," he grinned, "was an officer who insisted when I made the suggestion that it would never work."

If the Dead Could Talk, Hjalmar Schacht Would Face Murder Charge

Dr. Hjalmar Schacht will again go to trial in a few weeks. . . . He was convicted of being a top Nazi and sentenced to 10 years. The Upper Court reversed this decision and set him free. The Final Court has reversed the Upper Court and ordered him brought back to trial. . . . If reporters were allowed to cross-examine and ghosts could be subpoenaed—this is something you'd be likely to see:

Question: What is your name? . . . Answer: Adolf Hitler.

Q: Was Hjalmar Schacht a top Nazi? . . . Hitler: When I lost the July, 1932 elections, even before I took over, Schacht wrote me:

"Victory cannot elude you for long. You can always count on me as your reliable assistant."

Q: Did he know what the money was for? Hitler: Yes, I bluntly told the industrialists Schacht had brought to the meeting that I intended to destroy the parliamentary system in Germany, crush all internal opposition by force, build up the Wehrmacht—and gain my objectives outside of Germany by the use of force.

Q. And what was Schacht's reaction?....Hitler: He collected several million marks for me on the spot.

★

Q: Will the Court call Dr. Schacht? .... Dr. Schacht, please answer yes or no to the following questions: At the Leipzig Fair, on March 4, 1935, did you say in a public speech: "I assure you that all I am doing and saying enjoys the absolute approval of the Fuehrer and that I would never do or say anything that does not have his approval"?.....Schacht: It is a public document, in your own archives, No. EC 503.

Q: Didn't Hitler decorate you on January 30, 1937, with the Golden Party Badge for special services to the Nazis?..... Schacht: Ja.

Q: Didn't you tell Adolf Hitler personally and publicly that your gratitude knew no bounds because the Golden Party Badge of Nazidom was the highest award in Germany?....Schacht: Ja.

Q: And as official spokesman on Hitler's birthday in April, 1937, did you not say: "As one of his closest collaborators, I know that Adolf Hitler has won for himself the soul of the German people"? Schacht: Ach, ja. I zertainly dit!

Q: That is all. I should like to present one more witness, as an expert: The ghost of a United States Supreme Court Justice. Mr. Justice, what is the effect of a man assisting a criminal before he commits the act?....Answer: This was known in the Common Law as an Accessory before the Fact. An Acessory before the Fact is a Principal to the crime. The driver of a holdup car is as guilty as the man who pulls the trigger.

Q: And if a man such as Dr. Schacht obtained money for a gunman, knowing he was going to use the money for weapons to kill a man—and helped plan his deed—of what crime would he, Schacht, be guilty?....Answer: Murder in the First Degree.

Considers Hiring City Job Expert

Council Reported Seeking New Survey

By SHELDON BINN

Council is toying with the idea of hiring an expert to make a job evaluation study.

It was learned late yesterday that the salary and finance committees of council met on Tuesday night in a closed session at which the idea was discussed.

Reports said the idea was to have a survey made upon which a new salary ordinance would be based.

It was reported also that the committeemen talked about keeping such a job evaluation expert on a permanent basis, paying him a yearly retainer. He would have a full-time secretary paid by the city.

Councilman Harry Bowman, chairman of the salary committee, said the question was "kicked around," but that no decision has been reached.

The question of having an expert make a job evaluation survey brings to life an issue that supposedly died last summer.

OFFERED REPORTS

At that time, all city department heads turned job evaluation studies requested by council over to the salary committee.

That committee tried unsuccessfully to arrange a meeting with the finance committee to iron out a new salary ordinance.

The studies were requested by council in November 1947, when a $25-a-month-cost-of-living bonus was granted to all male employes and $12.50 a month to women employes until the survey was completed.

But the finance committee, headed by Councilman Charles N. Shultz, failed to convene with the salary committee, despite the fact that Bowman told Shultz that he would meet with him any time he (Shultz) set the time and the place.

It was this lack of action on council's part that motivated the city's police and firemen into putting the question of salary boosts for themselves before the voters on Nov. 2.

The initiated ordinance was passed and, effective Dec. 2, the firemen and policemen were granted hikes raising their monthly wages from $230 to $300. The other ranks got comparable increases.

At upper left may be seen the remains of an automobile which was parked on the cover and catapulted to the top of a 20-foot high purifying tank. At right is an overturned truck. Two employes were critically injured. G. W. Sales, vice president of the company, said the explosion apparently was caused when a spark from a welder's torch ignited fumes. Erects New Building

Farm Bureau Spends $20,000 on Structure

The structure will cost $20,000, Manager J. Arnold Burkhart announced, and will be used as a machine shop, tractor repair shop and a storage building.

Erection of the pre-fabricated building will be done by Contractor Charles Fike. It is expected to be completed by the end of January, if the weather is favorable, Burkhart said.

The building will measure 80 feet by 80 feet. It will not be the Quonset-type, but will have vertical walls.

The need for a new building has been apparent for more than six years, Burkhart said. The Farm Bureau's board of directors approved the proposal late last month.

Santa Still Lives In Kiddies' Letters

By EILEEN DEWHURST

"There is too a Santa Claus." At least, there is in the minds of a lot of Mansfield children. Proof of their belief in the legendary figure is the number of letters addressed to Santa Claus which are being received at the Mansfield post office.

But even the children are slow with their Christmas mailing this year. The number of Santa Claus letters received at the post office so far is not nearly as great as the number received last year at this time.

Several of the youthful letter writers evidently believe that Santa resides permanently in Mansfield, for their letters are addressed to "Santa Claus, Mansfield, Ohio." Others address their letters simply to the "North Pole," the "North Pole, Canada," and even the "North Pole, Ohio."

But, if the addresses are slightly different, the contents of the letters are similar. Although the age of the writers varies from tots of two or three, whose parents write for them, to those in the elementary grades, the letters sound much the same.

They ask for toys and some include requests for items of clothing. Most popular items with the girls are dolls and household tools. Boys, on the other hand, ask for electric trains and cowboy suits.

BROTHER 'ON HIS OWN'

One little boy is afraid that Santa won't find him when he moves to another state. He very carefully enumerated the articles he wanted, then casually added that Santa could bring his brother anything.

Some of the children merely send a list of what they expect Santa to bring. Others are more subtle and first inquire about his health and mention the food that will be left out for Santa when he makes his annual visit.

One little girl exemplified the spirit of Christmas when she asked Santa Claus to be sure and remember the other members of her family and to send some gifts to the children overseas who "don't have much."

HAPPY BIRTHDAY—

Gibson will celebrate at a family party at his home tonight. His only daughter, Bettie, who was recently married, is baking the birthday cake which will have the place of honor.

GIBSON

Gibson is a native of Mansfield and has had his own business for nearly 20 years.

He is a member of the University club, Elks lodge, the Civic Music association, and the First Methodist church.

Gibson is president of the Mansfield Community Players and that group also is his pet hobby. In fact, according to his wife, its becoming more like a full-time job, than a hobby. Gibson lives at 202 West Fourth street.

Redding was born in Ashland, but has spent most of his life in Mansfield.

He is a member of the Masonic order and the Elks lodge. Redding is married and lives at 596 Bigelow road.

GLOWS AT COURTHOUSE

The Richland county courthouse had a Christmas tree today at the first landing on the main entrance, replete with lights. The tree, more than 10 feet high, was presented by Earl Ward of Worthington township. The lights were obtained through donations by courthouse employes, the collection having been made by Mrs. Frank Raitch, deputy in the auditor's office. There are about 40 lights on the tree, placed this morning by Harold Snyder, courthouse custodian. Usually, the Christmas tree is in the lobby, but courthouse employes said Fire Chief L. J. Steele ruled the tree could not be inside as long as it had not been chemically treated against fire.

AID SAFETY DRIVE—

Children in the first, second and third grades of the city's schools are being enlisted today to spread the word for fire prevention during the holidays. The Chamber of Commerce Fire Prevention committee obtained 3,000 colorful leaflets explaining the fire hazards of Christmas decorations. The leaflets are being distributed to the pupils to take home. The committee is also supplying Christmas tree dealers with tags to be attached to each tree. The tags tell how to lessen the danger of fire starting in the trees. Any dealer not yet supplied with the tags can get them at the C. of C.

10 Violators Pay $100

One hundred dollars in fines and bond forfeitures were assessed against 10 traffic law violators in municipal court yesterday.

Milton E. Littlejohn, of Ironton, forfeited a $25 bond of passing a school bus discharging passengers and Joseph Procker, Mansfield, R. D. 5 paid $10 and costs for the same violation.

Ten dollar fines were meted out to Raymond R. Rinehart, 319 Henry street, for failing to yield the right of way; Louis Raitch, 408 Overlook road, for speeding; Rudy Schneider, 131 South Franklin avenue, for unsafe operation; and Arnold J. Gatton 26 Harker street, for obstructing the free passage of a highway.

Robert L. Banks, 119 North Walnut street, paid $15 and costs for failing to yield the right of way to a pedestrian and Holden F. Maul, 182 West Second street and Charles Dorfman, 73 Clifton boulevard, paid $5 and costs each on charges of failing to register a motor vehicle and failure to stop at a stop sign, respectively.

175 Attend Club Party

One hundred and 75 persons attended the Lions club annual Christmas party for members and their families held at North Lake park last night.

Following a buffet luncheon, movies were shown for the children and the group sang Christmas carols. Santa Claus delivered gifts to all the children present.

Russell Phipps and Harold Moody were co-chairmen of the committee in charge of arrangements for the party. Assisting them were Clarence Bemiller, C. W. Keller, L. H. Hamman, John Waldman, Von Davis, and John DeYarmon.

County Asks City To Help

Right-of-Way Costs Go Up

Because the right-of-way claims for the new section of State Route 13, around Mansfield airport, will cost $14,000 more than originally anticipated, the county yesterday asked city officials to help provide additional money for paying settlement claims.

Originally, the city and county paid $25,000 each toward road construction and $5,000 each for purchase of right-of-way land. However, that was based on an 80-foot right-of-way, Assistant Prosecutor Robert L. Ross said. Later the Civil Aeronautics administration ruled that there must be different types of slopes.

As a result, Ross said the right-of-way will be wider, 180 feet in some places. Construction of slopes and drainage will be costlier and three more buildings must be purchased.

At a meeting yesterday, commissioners asked city officials to help defray half the cost of the claims, and wrote a letter to Safety-Service Director Earl T. Garrison, for presentation to city council, telling the story.

The meeting was attended by the commissioners, Mayor Roy W. Vaughn, City Engineer W. C. Statler, Councilman Fred Miller, County Engineer Walter E. Rusk and Ross.

4 CLAIMS SETTLED

Four claims have been settled, one for $2,500, and others for $1,800, $100 and $250. The first two were settled after the parties had been named defendants in condemnation proceedings filed in Common Pleas court by the county commissioners.

The last two were settled before the court action started. There are still seven defendands named in the petition who have asked for more money for settlements than set up by the city and county officials.

Ross said that if settlements cannot be reached with the landowners, the county will proceed with the condemnation actions.

Carols Open Program

A carol sing throughout the halls at Madison high school will announce tomorrow afternoon that the annual Christmas program is about to start.

At 2 p. m. the student body will assemble in the auditorium, where carols will be played by the accordion band and a program of Christmas music and story will be presented.

In addition to music by the accordion band, there will be a solo by Paul Gottfried, music by the girls' and the boys' ensembles, and Christmas numbers by the school orchestra.

Speaker for the afternoon will be Dr. Delbert Lean of Wooster college, who will present Dickens' "Christmas Carol."

Shirley Banks will lead the entire student group in singing Christmas carols and Olan LaRue, superintendent of Madison township schools, will conclude the program with greetings.

Tomorrow's annual festival is being presented by the Y-teen group, of which Jo Ciralno is president and Betty Riggenbach program chairman. Miss Evelyn Wiseman and Miss Dorothy Whitworth, music supervisor, are directing the production.

Air Officials Cite New Flying Target

DAYTON — (U.P.) — A new flying target, a remotely-controlled plane capable of speeds up to 220 miles per hour, was announced today by the Air Materiel Command at Wright field here.

The new target, designated the OQ-19A, weighs approximately 300 pounds and can do high speed dives, loops, rolls, wing-overs and steep banks. It will be used for aircraft, anti-aircraft and flexible gunnery practice.

Toaster Overheats

A plastic-covered toaster which overheated when its automatic shut-off switch failed to work brought out firemen from No. 5 station to the home of Frank Janssen, 355 Davis road, at 4:47 p. m. yesterday. Firemen said damage was confined to the plastic cover.

Gift Checks At Tire Plant Total $65,000

A $65,000 Christmas present went out to employes of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company today in the form of gift checks from the company.

Every employe on the plant's payroll as of Dec. 10 received one of the special checks. The amounts were governed by employes' service records.

Those with service records of more than six months received checks for $30, those employed 60 days to six months received $20 and those with less than 60 days of service were given $10.

Sons of Italy To Hold Party

The Sons of Italy lodge will hold its annual Christmas party from 7 to 9 p. m. Friday in the club rooms.

Games and movies will be features of the program. Santa Claus will present gifts to the children.

19 to Get Diplomas

Ten Mansfielders, included in a total of 19 students from surrounding towns, will swell the ranks of the largest December graduating class in Ohio State university history to 1,062 persons tomorrow.

Dr. Harvey H. Davis, dean of the graduate school at the University of Iowa and former vice president at Ohio State, will deliver the commencement address during ceremonies at the Ohio State Fairgrounds coliseum.

Harry W. Berkley, George L. Hall, Ivan J. Shellhaas and Philip C. Wymond jr., all in business administration.

David I. Templeton, captain of the 1948 football team and former Mansfield resident, will receive his degree in education along with Maxine G. Smith of Mansfield.

Remaining area graduates, listed by towns, include:

Crestline, Edwin M. Weiss, bachelor of arts; Fredericktown, Ruth E. Phillips, bachelor of science in nursing; Galion, Charles W. Edwards, bachelor of arts, and Lowell E. Meek, bachelor of science in business administration; Greenwich, Francis J. Baker, bachelor of science in agriculture; Loudonville, Marvin E. Hamm, bachelor of arts; Lucas, Robert A. Barger, bachelor of science in education; Shelby, Howard N. Hartman, bachelor of science in journalism, and William W. Wilkinson, bachelor of science in business administration.

Farmers Vote On Saturday

Richland county landowners will go to the polls Saturday, between 1 and 7 p. m. to vote on five supervisors to carry out a soil conservation program for Richland county.

County Agent C. N. McGrew announced five polling places. These are the Shenandoah Grange Hall, the township building in Shelby; extension office in the courthouse, Lucas school and the fire station in Bellville.

Voters will have a choice of five from a slate of 13. McGrew said with the election of supervisors completed the soil conservation program should get underway by late winter or early spring.

Men Shoppers Go 'All Out' When Left to Themselves

Males hunted and browsed to their heart's content last night at the M. O'Neil company's second annual men's night. "No ladies allowed" was boldly proclaimed and, left on their own, the "stronger sex" really went to town on their Christmas shopping.

Hundreds of men visited the store. The management said the crowd was considerably larger than on the store's first men's night last year.

Hesitation was an unknown quantity. With methodical directness each man approached his target, accomplished his mission and went merrily on his way. Even feminine unmentionables were bought with straight-faced savoir faire, much to the amazement of many a saleslady.

Nylon was a favorite in ladies' lingerie, and blue was the uncontested victor in colors. From hats right on down to slippers, men seemed to prefer this ethereal shade.

The perfume counter was busy, with sample sniffing as prevalent among men as women. Shalimar and Intoxication were particularly popular and Black Satin cologne seemed to intrigue the men.

"They know pretty much what they want," a saleslady commented, "but still they like to shop around."

PREFER SHEER HOSE

As far as stockings were concerned, the men displayed a more conservative tendency. The sheerer the better, but they almost unanimously preferred the neutral shades to the new dark tones.

Ruffles and frills held a steady lead over more tailored garments.

"I could have sold twice as many gowns if I had more of the real fancy kind," another saleswoman said.

The Snack bar on the second floor was a popular spot. Coffee, soft drinks and doughnuts were served gratuitously to a steady stream of weary shoppers.

Pretty models displayed evening gowns, lounging pajamas, sports clothes and almost every line of ladies' ready-to-wear.

When the chimes struck nine, and the men began finding the exits, one said to another, "Did you find anything?" The reply was, "Yeah, too much."

Court Asked To 'Lay Off'

WASHINGTON, —(AP)— The United States government pleaded with the Supreme Court today not to "tamper" with the international tribunal which doomed former Premier Tojo and six other Japanese war lords to death.

A brief filed in advance of today's historic war crimes arguments cited the government's "deep concern lest irreparable damage be done" if the American court - "arrogates" to itself power to review the Tokyo tribunal's actions.

Solicitor General Philip B. Perlman said any such move not only would be a blow to peaceful and judicial settlements of international disputes and "the continued growth of world law" but: "Other cooperative endeavors such as United Nations activities, also will suffer."

14 Brownies Get New Rank

Fourteen members of Brownie troop 58 of Bowman school became intermediate Girl Scouts in a fly-up ceremony held at the school Tuesday. Mothers of the girls were guests at the candlelight ceremony.

CLEVELAND—(AP)—The Cleveland Federation of Labor has adopted a resolution calling upon the newly-elected state legislature to repeal the Ferguson law banning strikes by public employes.

Air Force Set For Perilous Rescue Effort

ST. JOHN'S NLFD., — (AP) —American air crews, equipped with ski-planes and gliders, will make a perilous attempt today to rescue nine U. S. fliers, huddled on a bleak Greenland snow bank.

The U. S. Newfoundland command said rescue equipment was being gathered at Narsarssuak, 100 miles from where the nine men are stranded.

Two transports towing red-tailed gliders took off last night from Westover Field, Mass. On the first leg of the rescue mission. They were accompanied by Lt. Col. E. Emil Beaudry, noted Arctic flier, who will supervise the rescue.

Seven men were stranded when their C-47 was forced down last Thursday. Two more were added Monday when their B-17 fortress, trying to rescue the seven, nosedived into a snow bank. None of the nine was injured, officials said.

Girls Present Gifts To Mothers

Investiture ceremonies were held for 14 members of Brownie Troop 72 yesterday.

A Christmas party for troop members and guests followed the ceremony. The girls presented Christmas gifts, which they had made, to their mothers. Refreshments were served at the party.

Mrs. Jacob Gilde and Mrs. Robert Schisler are leaders of the troop.

Three Traffic Violators Fined

Three traffic violators pleaded guilty in municipal court today and were fined a total of $35.

Richard J. Burrill, Crystal Lake, Ill., paid $10 and costs for passing a school bus. A similar fine was levied against Samuel W. Cross, Akron, for the same violation.

Religious Education Staff Picked

Kunkel Heads Galion Council

GALION — Clyde Kunkel was elected president of the revised Galion Council of Religious Education at a meeting held this week at First Methodist church. Other officers chosen to serve are: vice-president, William Probst; secretary, James Cotsamire; treasurer, Rev. Turner Holt, who is also treasurer of the Galion Ministerial association.

The council heard a detailed report of the progress of the program of religious education for school children which is being conducted in the churches this year. This was given by the religious education instructor, Miss Verlie Smith.

Members of the council include one layman from each participating church, officers of the Ministerial association, representative of Ministerial association, public school superintendent, representative of the school board and the religious education instructor.

REAL HELPMATE

"Look, dear," she said as they were leaving. "I've packed lots of Grape-Nuts Wheat-Meal so we'll have a delicious hot cereal every morning."

"Swell!" cried the husband. "You're catching on already. But how did you find room for everything?"

"Easy!" she smiled proudly. "The Weather Bureau says it won't rain—so I threw away those old rubber boots you packed."

Grape-Nuts Wheat-Meal cooks in 3½ minutes. It's rich in nourishment. Get a box today.

Brotherhood Forms, Elects

LOUDONVILLE — Officers were elected and the constitution of the Brotherhood of the Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church was adopted at a meeting here Tuesday. There are 22 members.

"Christmas and Brotherhood" was the evening's theme. The program featured Clarence Kettering, Guy Stentz, Eugene Berry and Rev. Lester Dresch, pastor of the church.

Officers chosen were: Raymond Casner, president; George Stake, vice-president; Clarence Beck, secretary; Harley Young, financial secretary; and Gailord Hunter, treasurer. Five departments of work were created. Social fellowship followed the devotional-zusiness meeting.

The Syracuse university basketball team will play all of its home games at the State Fair Coliseum this winter.

28 Eye Defects Noted At One Bucyrus School

BUCYRUS — Completion of the examination of the eyes of pupils at Lincoln grade school here was announced today by the Bucyrus Lions club, sponsors of the examinations.

Three Bucyrus optometrists examined 118 pupils at Lincoln school and found 28 with eye defects. City-wide totals for the examinations discloses that eye defects have been found in 304 cases out of 850 grade school children examined.

BOARD PICKS OFFICERS

LOUDONVILLE — Newly-elected board of directors of the Boosters club met Monday night and named Chuck Burgess as its president; Russel Schneider was chosen as vice-president, and Dick Schneider as secretary-treasurer.

SERVE WITH Baked Tomatoes

1 lb. pork sausage patties
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup diluted evaporated milk
1 cup fine cracker crumbs
2 cups cooked whole kernel corn

Fry pork sausage patties until lightly brown. Make a white sauce by melting the butter, adding the flour and stirring in the milk. Season. Stir until the sauce thickens. In an oiled baking dish arrange layers of crumbs, corn, sausage patties and white sauce. Top with buttered crumbs and a few pork sausage patties, and bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven (350° F.). Serves 4 or 5.

10 Ashland Panes Struck

ASHLAND — At least 10 windows of Ashland business places have been damaged by pellets apparently fired from BB guns or rifles, Police Chief Harry Smith reported today.

The situation here closely resembles that in Mansfield where an even larger number of windows suffered damage from the pellets.

Ashland police requests all residents to assist in breaking up the expensive vandalism here. The culprits are partial to the largest and most expensive plate-glass windows.

40 Youngsters To Present Play

Forty members of the Friendly-House kindergarten will present a Christmas program at Friendly-House at 10 a. m. Friday.

The children will present the story of the nativity in the form of a Christmas play, "A Little Child," under the direction of Mrs. Mary Gimbel and Mrs. Margaret Zivkoff.

Rev. John G. Gensel, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, will appear as Santa Claus with toys and a treat for the children. The program is open to the public.

Solon From Ashland Heads Patronage Group In State

COLUMBUS, O. — (INS) — A house patronage committee headed by State Representative J. Frank McClure of Ashland county was named yesterday to dicker with the Democratic majority for the Republicans' share of jobs in the incoming house of representatives.

The committee was named by Rep. C. William O'Neil, (R-Washington), the present speaker who will be minority leader when the Democrats take control Jan. 3.

Other members of the committee are Reps. Bertha M. Huston, of Henry county; George Kirkpatrick, Knox county; William L. Manahan, Defiance county; Walter G. George Penry, Delaware county, and Don H. Rolf, Hamilton county.

Meat Grease Gets Union Depot 'Hot'

COLUMBUS — (AP) — A large force of police and firemen were rushed to Union depot last night after a passenger train was reported on fire. The Red Cross detailed its mobile unit and alerted hospitals and physicians.

But the blaze turned out to be burning meat grease in an exhaust fan of the train's kitchen.

Bucyrus Host To Realtors

BUCYRUS — Members of the Galion and Marion Real Estate boards will be guests at a meeting of the Bucyrus Real Estate board Friday night at El Sombrero restaurant, west of here, Frank P. Sitler, president of the local board, announced today.

Principal speaker will be J. Earl Miller of Geneva, president of the Ohio Association of Real Estate boards. He will discuss the recent convention of the National Association of Real Estate boards and tell something of the outlook for real estate and building during 1949.

Several realtors from Richland, Wyandot and Morrow counties also are expected to attend the meeting.

Brothers Each Fined On Vehicle Charges

MILLERSBURG — George Chapman, 18, and his brother, Ralph, 21, Greer, Ohio, each were assessed fines in Justice William Close's court Monday after entering pleas of guilty.

Each were fined $10 and costs for operating a motor vehicle without a driver's permit and George was fined an additional $10 and costs for unsafe operation. They arranged to pay their fines.

PLANT TO CLOSE

CRESTLINE — The Buckeye Manufacturing company here will close down Friday and reaopen on Jan. 3. All employes will receive a turkey for Christmas.

Here's what the Kroger manager in one Indiana town does — besides managing the Kroger store. He's Chairman of the Board of Trustees of his Church; treasurer of the Exchange Club, and Commander of the local Veterans of Foreign Wars. In addition he is an active member of the Retail Merchants' Association and a diligent Red Cross worker. Kroger managers—like Kroger stores—belong in the communities they serve.

Conference Totters as Title Tilt Nears

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

CLEVELAND'S Gene Bearden has been cast as the losing pitcher in the movie, "The Life of Monty Stratton." . . . Five new rookies have swelled the Tribe roster to 39. . . . They will gun for the 25 squad spots. . . . The newcomers are: Infielders Fred Marsh and Bobby Wilson, Catcher Milt Stockhausen, Pitcher Will Hafey and Herman Reich, an outfielder-first sacker. . . . The Indians have a new ducat selling wrinkle. . . . They're organized a game of the month club. . . . Before the season starts the Tribe officials will pick the top night or Sunday game of each month. . . . The buyer will get the same location each time. . . . For box seats the price is $12 for six games and $9 for reserved seats. . . . Dave Templeton, the former Senior high football star, is again acting as head of the Columbus Dispatch news carriers' recreation program. . . . Dave, the 1948 Ohio State football captain, is being assisted by Pandel Savic. . . . A former Philadelphia Athletic star—Maxie Bishop—is baseball coach at the Naval academy. . . . Emil Verban of the Phillies' has never hit a major league homer. His last four-bagger was in 1940 with Asheville, N. C.

★

OTTO GRAHAM, the Cleveland pass-master, has accounted for 2,859 yards this season. . . . He has 146 on 23 rushes and 2,713 on 333 passes. . . . Automatic Otto completed 173 of the tosses. . . . Lou Groza, Brownie tackle, made 51 of 52 extra point attempts and eight of 19 field goal tries. . . . Harvey Johnson, of the New York football Yankees, has booted 73 straight points after touchdown. . . . It's an all-time pro mark.

★

SPORTS QUERY: Who hit the first home run in major league baseball? It was Roscoe Barnes of Chicago on May 2, 1876. . . . Only four times during the 1948 season did Stan Musial, St. Louis slugging star, go two or more games without a hit. . . . The great George Sisler compiled his all-time batting mark of .340 over a stretch of 2,065 games. . . . Babe Ruth held 76 major league baseball records. . . . In 28 years, 38 different cities have been represented in the National Football league.

Pat Comiskey Battles Louis

PATERSON, N. J. — (AP) — meets Paterson's pat Comiskey tonight in a six-round affair billed as an exhibition.

For Comiskey it will be a chance to exhibit whether he is good enough to rate a fight with Ezzard Charles.

Charles' manager, Jake Mintz, has said the bout, tentative for Jan. 14 in Cleveland, depends largely on Comiskey's showing tonight.

Louis, as in all of his other exhibitions, will be putting his crown on the line, when he walks into the ring.

Host of Sport Stars At Big Toledo Fete

TOLEDO —(INS)— Sportsdom's greatest stars ever to be assembled in one mass will be honored tonight at a banquet of champions in Toledo.

Twenty-four of the present day sports champions will hear their deeds of valor praised at the banquet table by Jimmy Counselman, coach of the National Football league champion Chicago Cardinals.

Cleveland 11 Meets Bills For Crown

CLEVELAND — (INS) — The most explosive confab in the brief history of the All-American Football conference begins in Cleveland tomorrow when league magnates decide what to do with their future.

Start of the important executive session will precede by two days the AAC's third championship game, in which the ubiquitous Cleveland Browns battle the Buffalo Bills, whom they defeated twice during loop play earlier this season. This contest will occur Sunday afternoon in municipal stadium on the banks of Lake Erie.

The game is for the league title, and certainly there will be a championship to be won. By game time, however, there is just the smallest possibility that there won't be any conference.

HERE'S LARGE ORDER

Heavily outgunned by its entrenched rival, the National Football league, the All-America, if it wishes to continue, must:

1. Scare up some fresh money.
2. Relocate a probable minimum of two of its franchises.
3. Pacify insurrectionists in its own midst.

That is a large sized order.

Only two AAC clubs, San Francisco and Cleveland, may be called sound with any measure of accuracy.

Los Angeles and the New York Yankees are in the red, despite large home attendance figures for the former and Yankee stadium ownership by the latter. The Los Angeles gates reportedly are boosted by large-scale issuance of low-cost and tax tickets—"paper," they're called.

The Yanks must forever battle the lure of the cross-town Giants, a National league team which also suffered this year, but is dug in too solidly to be budged.

Thus Cleveland and San Francisco are in one layer, Los Angeles and New York in the next one.

Then come Baltimore and Buffalo, teams which have excited some local civic enthusiasm but are heavy financial losers, especially on the road.

AT THE BOTTOM

On the bottom are the Chicago Rockets and the Brooklyn Dodgers. If the league hopes to continue on an eight-team basis, it appears ordained that both of these franchises must be moved to more congenial surroundings, if such exist. Montreal has been mentioned as a possible new Dodger site and Milwaukee for the Rockets.

The gimmick in the works is that should either the Dodgers or Rockets fold, and that is certainly a possibility, other club owners in the league might see no point in continuing at all. This is true not only at Buffalo and Baltimore, which though losing, probably would be willing to run again, but in Cleveland and San Francisco—the very top echelon.

Tony Morabito, San Francisco owner, is reported especially dissatisfied, and may be looking towards the National league, which would welcome his team and the Cleveland franchise.

Once that happens—good bye, All-America conference.

Philadelphia Grid Owner Wants Joint Talent Draft

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Alexis Thompson today opened the way for a new peace offensive in professional football.

The millionaire owner of the Philadelphia Eagles dislosed he planned to "feel out" his National Football league colleagues on their latest reaction to a common draft with the All-America conference.

"Either that or some other sensible solution," he said, "to the fantastic situation that finds me with a championship football team that will lose close to $32,000 this year."

The NFL and AAC have been at loggerheads for three years and the result has been high salaries for players and money losing franchises.

"I'd like to make some 'sense and cents' out of this muddled pro-football business," Thompson explained.

DETERMINED TRY

Just to show how far away everybody is on the problem, here's what NFL Commissioner Bert Bell has to say:

"The National Football league is satisfied with its operation this year in view of the general falling off of the amusement business.

"While we figure to drop about six per cent financially, I feel sure that more teams have made money in the past few years than in the period from 1933 to 1943."

Sport Center Gets 3rd Win

Paced by Dave Coleman's 17 points, Ohio Sport Center won its third straight game last night in the Class B league at the Friendly House, defeating Busy Bee Lunch, 31-14.

Phil Lindsay of Ohio State Beverage also collected 17 points to lead his team to a 27-23 conquest of North End Shine.

Harder 'Most Valuable' In National Loop

NEW YORK, — (UP) —Point-producing Pat Harder of the Chicago Cardinals was named the National Football League's most valuable player and Chucking Charley Conerly of the New York Giants was selected rookie of the year today by United Press football writers.

The Cardinal fullback finished the regular season last week as the league's leading scorer with 110 points—six touchdowns, 53 extra points and seven field goals. He didn't miss a conversion try all year and now has a record of booting 97 out of 98 extra point attempts since he started kicking for the Cards in the last game of the 1946 season.

TOP RUNNER

But kicking is not Harder's sole talent. He's a top running back, and it is this versatility which earned him the most valuable player honors as his team snared its second straight eastern division championship.

Conerly's passing antics for the Giants drew top rookie honors for him even though his team had a losing season.

He completed 162 passes in 299 tries for 1,175 yards and 22 touchdowns. All football men agreed it was a remarkable record for his protection was not too good.

City 'A' Cage League Tie To Be Dissolved

Martin Hardware, one of the three teams tied for the City A league lead, will fall by the wayside tonight without even entering the John Simpson gym.

Rogers Jewelry and Urschel Insurance, the other top teams will play in the first of two games tonight and will move out in front unless they are upset. Rogers opens the program against Penn Auto at 7 p. m. while Urschel's face Komito's at 8. Yuncker's and Ohio Sport Center collide in the night cap.

Fischer Gets Outland Prize

Fischer, 230 pound senior, appeared in both guard and tackle roles for the Irish during the season. He was named as a tackle on the Associated Press All-American team.

The trophy is awarded annually to the guard of tackle who is designated as outstanding by the Football Writers association.

Plymouth's Host To Ontario Five

PLYMOUTH — The Plymouth Pilgrims will play host to the Ontario Warriors Friday night at 7:30.

The Pilgrims are seeking their third win in four starts, while the Warriors will be out to defend their string of five wins.

Roger Daron and Ronald Trauger will probably start as guards with Desmond Donnenwirth and Dean Grabach as forwards for Plymouth. Lewis Steele will play center.

The reserve game will start at 7:30.

Calumet Comet's Out of 2 More

MIAMI, Fla. —(UP)— Mighty Citation lost two more lucrative opportunities in his quest to become the leading money winning horse of all time today when Calumet Farm Manager Ben Jones declared him out of the McLennan and Widener handicaps at Hialeah this winter.

Earlier this week the Calumet comet was declared out of the $100,000 Santa Anita maturity and $100,000 Santa Anita handicap because of a growth on his leg bone which is now the size of a half dollar.

Five Mansfield Bowlers On Honor Roll; Cedric Mathias, Art Hilborn Are Tops

Four City A league leaders tacked their name on the honor roll last night, but it remained for a kegler in the Westinghouse "A" league to fire the highest score of the night.

Cedric Mathias, better known as a golfer, was the high man of the lanes with a 640 series. He put together games of 191, 242, and 207 for the fine total.

Mathias' score was 68 pins better than his nearest competitor in the Westinghouse circuit, Leo Mertz who turned in 572. Tony Santoro posted 571, Elmer Myers, 551, Howard Guisinger, 545, and Fred Schnittke, 539.

Colony star manager Art Hilborn led the honor roll quartet of the "A" league. He pounded out 190-235-205—630, while rolling with league-leading Bissman's. Lloyd Pugh of Ideal Billiards posted 200-214-209—623, Bob Lynch, Bissman's had 187-201-224—612. Joe Harrod, Ideal, was really blasting them in one game but fell down in the others. He knocked out 264 in his middle game between scores of 179 and 160. Harrod's total was 603.

Richard McKinney, Eagles, just missed the charmed circle. After leading off with 236 he slipped to 180 and 183 to end with 599.

Bob Bieri had a 230 single game and 594 series, Joseph Lain had 591, and Carl Englehorn, 589. Other scores included Orlie Grable's 587, John Klish's 579, Al Stirtzinger, 575, and Glen Yingling, 561.

Bissman's won two out of three games from Ace Cabs, the third game being decided by a roll-off after the two teams tied at 947. Runnerup Jerry's 36 Bar won two of three from Mitsch's Corner store. Bissman's had 2,808.

★

Peg Shoup of Fairview Bar was tops in the Richland Ladies' league last night with fine scores of 162-171-223—556. Marty Dye also crossed the 500 line with 180-147-190—517. Lil LeMunyon had 489 and D. Thompson 467.

★

Tony's Canfield swept three games from Ideal Office to move out in front in the Victory league. Ideal Panel and Home Interiors both fell one game behind as they won two of three games.

Harlow Hesson of OSR carved out 181-159-211 — 551 and John Horst of the same team, 548, as OSR swept three from Whitney Oils. Wayne Au had 528, Ray Boor 517, Earl Turner 509, and Corny Robinson 500. Robinson's 214 was the high single game effort.

Ray Bottorf paced the Westinghouse B league at Richland Recreation with a 201 single game and 561 series. Frank Beal had the top single game, 216, and a 539 series, while Bob Hetler had 524, and L. Barnes 509.

★

H. Swan set the pace among Isaly's bowlers with a 494. C. Heldebrand had 487, and Phil Deschner and P. Zartman sr., 473.

★

The Tipuls again featured competition in the St. Peter's alumni circuit. Bob Tipul was the leader with 196-148-161—505 while Tom Tipul had 165-165-174—504. Jerry Dillon had 495 and Leo Kleshinski, 463.

★

Lead in the Dominion Women's league went to Edna Bricker with 134-166-120 — 420. Radene Lee trailed with 416 while Mary Melton had 413 and Gladys Indorf, 409.

Looks Like Rose Bowl Pact Is Set For 10-Year Run

PASADENA, Calif. —(AP)— The Rose Bowl pact between the Big Nine and the Pacific Coast Conference apparently will last through 1959—at least 10-year seats to the grid classic will be sold on that basis.

The Tournament of Roses association said yestetday that 9,658 seats—to be added after the Jan. 1, 1949, game—will be sold on 10-year leases, the 10-year cost per seat.—$55.

Of the total seats, 3,220 will be sold to the general public. The remaining 6,438 will be split between the Big Ten and the PCC.

Asked if that meant renewal by 1951 of the current agreement between the two loops, Edward Allen, assistant manager of the association, said "I suppose so."

Five Browns On All-League Team

NEW YORK—(AP)—The champion Cleveland Browns, who defend their title Sunday against Buffalo, placed five players on the all-conference team of the All-America football conference.

The team was chosen by the AAC from a poll of coaches, sports writers and broadcasters.

Cleveland dominated the first eleven by placing powerized Marion Motley at fullback, T-master Otto Graham at quarterback, Mac Speedie at end, Lou Rymkus at tackle and Bill Willis at guard.

The west coast members of the three-year-old circuit—San Francisco and Los Angeles—were honored with two men each on the selection and the other spots went to Baltimore and Buffalo.

The all-conference team is unique in that it doesn't include Glenn Dobbs of the Los Angeles Dons, who won the total offense championship and set a new all-time league record for punting. He also set a number of individual records.

The first team backfield includes, besides Graham and Motley, Buffalo's great Chet Mutryn, who was the leading scorer with 96 points, and John Strzykalsi of San Francisco.

The tackles are Rymkus and Bob Reinhard of Los Angeles. The ends are Speedie and San Francisco's Alyn Beals.

Motley, 238-pound Negro fullback, polled 57 points to lead all other candidates in his third appearance on the star selection. He was the league's rushing champion with 964 yards.

The closest race was at quarterback where Graham, another three-time honoree, shaded Frankie Albert of San Francisco. Graham, the All-America forward passing champion who finished second to Dobbs in total offense, received 46 points to Albert's 44.

★

The second team was made up of ends Dante Lavelli of Cleveland and Al Baldwin of Buffalo; tackles John Woudenberg of San Francisco and Martin Ruby of Brooklyn; guards Riley Matheson of San Francisco and Ed Ulinski of Cleveland; center Lou Saban of Cleveland; quarterback Frankie Albert of San Francisco; halfbacks Glenn Dobbs of Los Angeles and Billy Hillenbrand of Baltimore, and fullback Mickey Colmer of Brooklyn.

Senior High Seeks Victory No. 4 at Bexley

Hoffman Expecting Close Cage Contest

Although Coach Vern Hoffman is a bit on the pessimistic side, the Senior high Tygers rate as favorites over the Bexley Lions tomorrow night on the Columbus school's basketball court.

Hoffman expects the Bexley club to be plenty tough as he pushes his charges towards victory No. 4. The Lions have little in the way of experience but the home court advantage and an in-and-out record could prove troublesome.

Bexley opened the season with victories over Marion Harding 37 to 34 and Newark, 43 to 36. Then last Friday the Lions stumbled before Washington Court House, 50 to 28. Bexley trailed only 27-22 in the third quarter of that one.

Coach Carleton Smith has built his Bexley cage machine around a bunch of kids up from the 1948 reserve team Bob Thall, who subbed against the Tyger varsity, is the lone returning letterman Dave Walcott, Pug Bernlohr, Harlor and Montague

AVERAGES SIX FOOT

The Lions starting lineup averages just about six-foot with Walcott the tallest at 6-2. Bernlohr stands 6-1 Last year when the Bengal sophs knicked off the Bexley reserves, 40 to 30, Walcott got 11 points and Bernlohr, seven.

Hoffman's 1948 varsity led all of the way to defeat Bexley, 63 to 53, in a thriller. Thall got two buckets in a sub's role. Norb Shibinski and Paul Ferguson, 1947-48 Tyger regulars, had a total of 22 points.

★

Twenty-seven players will be in the Bengal squad which is scheduled to leave at 4 p. m. tomorrow by bus. The Tyger cubs will be gunning for their fifth in a row.

★

Slender Jimmy Anderson is the Bengals' leading point getter with 53 markers, an average of 17.7 a game. Shibinski is next in line with 23 points while Ferguson and Ed Schmitt each have 20.

Ferguson is the only Tyger who has been accurate from the free throw line. Pinkie has connected on eight of 12 tries while the team as a whole has only 25 out of 56.

Mitsch's Five Takes Lead In National Loop

Frankie Mitsch's Corner Store moved into first place in the Class B National league last night by walloping previously undefeated Home Materials, 47-16, in Senior high gym. It was Mitsch's second victory.

Mitsch's led only 16-9 at the end of the half but spurted from there on to coast in easily. The Independents edged Four Square Gospel, 39-36, and AVC beat Au Construction, 34-29 in other games.

Ralph Postlewaite dropped in 23 points and paced the Independent's fourth quarter drive which notched their first victory in three starts.

AVC also had to come from behind after trailing 16-12 at halftime.

Jaycees Prove Perfect Hosts

PASADENA, Calif.—(AP)—Some 124 motorists who parked in a road during the Little Rose Bowl game Saturday got traffic tickets for illegal parking

The Pasadena Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the game in which Compton college beat Duluth, Minn., junior college 48 to 14, feels that the motorists were "guests" of the chamber.

Proving itself the perfect host, the chamber said yesterday it would pay all the traffic fines.

Sports Chatter . . . .

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Football oddities? We have 'em!

For instance: Newport, Ky., was playing Springfield Central Catholic high school one Sunday afternoon this fall. The score, with eight (count 'em—eight) seconds to play, was 7-7.

Newport Coach Al Howe sent in his spot runner, Francis Weimer. The speedster rolled around end for 48 yards and a touchdown, sending Newport into a 13-7 lead.

Time came in with the snap of the ball, Don Mabra faded back and threw. Bill Laub gathered in the ball on the 50 and went the rest of the way. Final score 13-13—but two touchdowns in the final eight seconds must be the record. Anyway, they're still mumbling about it over Clark county way.

And over at Toronto, Coach John C. Zimmerman believes his boys set another record during the recent campaign.

The Toronto team allowed the opposition an average of only 62 yards per contest, but that isn't where the record comes in.

The mark about which they're boasting is that the Raiders racked up 16 points on safeties—eight of 'em—during the season. Toronto scored three in one game, two in another, and "singles" in three.

Harold Kriviski, outstanding tackle, was responsible for four of the safeties and rated an assist on the others Mr Zimmerman, by the way, would like to know if any of you have heard of a team scoring more than eight safeties in a season, or three in a game.

Someone—he didn't sign his name—was irked a nickle's worth up around Alliance because Jerry Thorpe, sterling fullback of the Aviators, wasn't placed on the first All-Ohio high school team.

Two days after the team was announced we received five penny postcards from the Stark county city. All were in the same handwriting. One was signed "Someone From Alliance," another by "An Aviator Fan," and the others were unsigned.

The calmest of the messages they carried was. "Jerry Thorpe is a coach's dream in the backfield. What's the matter? Do you have nightmares?"

In our book, Mr Thorpe is a whale of a football player, probably the second best we saw all year. The best? Colceri of Canton McKinley!

Shelly Swank On Bobcat Frosh 5

Swank was picked for the squad along with All-Ohio Glen Hursey and Roy Hupp of Glenford's great Class B team of last year. The trio will also be varsity baseball candidates in the spring, along with Mansfield's Jim Meeting First basketball game is set for Jan. 22 against the Ohio State freshmen at Columbus.

Cleveland Indians Tops In Junior Loop Defense

CHICAGO—(U.P.)—The Cleveland Indians, displaying the ultimate in fielding finesse, topped the American league defensively in 1948 and placed three players on the circuit's all-star fielding team, official averages revealed today.

Cleveland registered the best fielding percentage in the league, .982, only a point off its own major league standard of 1947. The Indians also boasted three players who were best defensively at their individual positions in Shortstop-Manager Lou Boudreau, First Baseman Eddie Robinson and Outfielder Dale Mitchell.

1B—Robinson, .995.
2B—George Stirnweiss, Yankees, .993.
3B—Hank Majeski, Athletics, .975
SS—Boudreau, 975.
OF—Mitchell 991· Barney McCoskey, Athletics, .990, and Taft Wright, White Sox, 987.
C—Bob Swift, Tigers, .991.
P—Freddie Hutchinson, Tigers, 1.000.

Stirnweiss broke two major league marks in compiling his .993 percentage. His average erased the old mark of .992 and his five errors while handling 715 chances was also a new season low for miscues.

Four individual fielding standards were tied during last season and all involved double plays. Hal Newhouser of the Tigers started four double plays in one game and team-mate George Vico and Robinson tied a mark for first basemen by participating in six double plays each during a single contest. Shortstop Vern Stephens of the Red Sox tied a record at his position by taking part in five twin-killings while Joe Gordon of the Indians tied a record for second basemen by participating in five double plays during two separate games.

St. Louis was last in fielding percentage with .972 but first in double plays with 190. As a whole, the American league fielded .977, tying its previous best mark which was created in 1947.

Sammy Snead Wins Tourney

HAVANA — (AP) — Slambang Sam Snead found the long, par 72 Havana course to his liking and came away with the top purse of $1,900 in the Havana best-ball golf tournament.

The veteran professional from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., took honors in both the best-ball and individual scoring competition in the meet which closed yesterday.

His 209, seven under regulation, also was best individual score.

Two More Drills

CLEVELAND — (INS) — The defending champion Cleveland Browns were to go through two more rugged practice sessions today and tomorrow in preparation for their championship game with the Buffalo bills at the Lakefront stadium Sunday.

Big Nine Cage Quints Active

CHICAGO — (AP) — Activity on the Western Conference basketball front picks up tonight with Indiana playing host to Kansas State and then speeds ahead with two games set for tomorrow and five on Saturday.

The Western Conference basketball race does not open until Jan. 3.

Tomorrow Michigan's defending conference champions will visit the University of Colorado, while Purdue is host to Nebraska. On Saturday Northwestern will meet Navy and De Paul will play Minnesota in the Chicago stadium. In other contests Saturday Pennsylvania will visit Illinois; Ohio State invades Oklahoma and Michigan State plays at Iowa.
